

10 desirable jobs at Microsoft give you hundreds of thousands of dollars in income

If you intend to apply for this technology company, do not ignore 10 positions at Microsoft because it can give you income up to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Working in a large technology company like Microsoft must be the desire of many people. Microsoft is not only known as the most ideal workplace for information technology but also a company with high payroll for employees up to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

You probably also want to know which positions in this company are paid the highest? Here are 10 locations at Microsoft that bring the owner of the income up to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Senior Director: This is the person who will directly monitor business units, which can include sales or accounting. With this position, the senior directors will have an income of USD 201,000 or a total of bonuses and shares of up to USD 310,000.

Senior marketing manager: This position at Microsoft is currently led by Chris Capossela. Marketing is a job related to communication strategies for companies and product introduction to consumers. This position is also quite important, so the salary must be adequate. Every year people like Chris Capossela earn $ 195,882 or $ 339,327 gross salary.

Product manager : These people will guide the development of products that the company will launch such as Xbox Live or Visual Studio. With this position, the salary they can get USD 195,946 basic salary or $ 310,865 total income including bonuses and shares.

For technical directors: Those who work for this position for Microsoft can earn $ 196,677 a year and $ 346,247 gross income including the bonus.

Senior Director of Business Development: These people are tasked with creating good relationships with partners, investors as well as approaching and working directly with many partner companies. Their income earned $ 203,452 in basic salary or $ 339,014 in total income.

Development Director: New Microsoft products like Surface Book 2 or folding screen device are created under the supervision of development managers. The company paid them $ 205,297 a year, the total amount of bonuses and shares could reach $ 426,000.

Large companies like Microsoft need a lot of managers to solve all the noisy issues around. Because the nature of the work is quite complicated, each person can earn USD 217,928 basic salary or total income up to USD 464,005.

Lawyer : In addition to the above positions, the lawyer is also a very well-paid job by Microsoft. These people are responsible for dealing with luxuriant groves. Therefore, Microsoft has always asked top lawyers to help them solve legal issues completely. That's why a senior Microsoft attorney can earn $ 196,044 or gross income including stocks and bonuses of $ 286,470.

Human Resource Manager : In order to have good and good quality human resources, HR managers in big companies like Microsoft are usually very good and very respected people. Indeed, this position has a salary of up to 177,959 USD or a total income of 241,361 USD per year.

Finally, Microsoft 's highest - earning position is currently the chief executive. Satya Nadella CEO paid $ 20 million in the past year. Of course, along with remuneration and high income is a tremendous responsibility, this CEO may lose millions if Microsoft fails to achieve sales goals.

Hope with the above information will be helpful to you!

See more:

1. Microsoft allows employees to "hack" the company's products
2. There is an extremely mysterious company, making more money than Apple and Microsoft, but few people know about its existence.
3. Microsoft tops the list of the world's top 100 technology companies

You finished reading the article "10 desirable jobs at Microsoft give you hundreds of thousands of dollars in income" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.