

Unfriend Finder

You want to know if a friend wants to 'get' you off their list? Unfriend Finder will help you detect this. Every time you log in, the tool on Unfriend Finder will check if someone has disappeared from your friends list. If it doesn't find that person on the list anymore, you'll get a message saying that you 'deleted' them from the list or they have removed you from your friends list. It also reports that those people are still using Facebook or no longer using Facebook accounts.

Add 'Dislike' button

Facebook has not officially added the 'Dislike' button, but you can also create this button to update your status. Magic Updates application allows you to customize action buttons, such as 'Dislike', 'Hate' or 'Love' and add it to the update status as soon as you press 'Share'.

Flixster

The screenshot displays the Flixster website interface. It features several movie listings with their respective posters and titles. The first listing is for "Atlas Shrugged Part I" with a poster showing a glowing lightbulb. Below the title, it says "81% want to see it" and lists the cast: Taylor Schilling, Matthew Marsden, Grant Bowler, Ed Gallego, Nick Cassavetes, Jsu Garcia, and Matthew Marsden. A description follows: "Dagny Taggart (Taylor Schilling) runs Taggart Transcontinental, the largest remaining railroad company in America, with intelligence, courage and integrity, despite the systematic disappearance of her best and most competent workers. She is drawn to ... read more". Below the description is a rating section with a star icon and a "POST" button. The second listing is for "The Princess Of Montpensier" with a poster showing a group of people. It says "72% want to see it" and lists the cast: Mélanie Thierry, Gaspard Ulliel, Lambert Wilson, Grégoire Leprince-Ringuet, Raphaël Personnaz, Anatole de Bodinat, and Eric Rufat. A description follows: "France, 1562. Against a background of the savage Catholic/Protestant wars, Marie de Médicis (Mélanie Thierry), a beautiful young aristocrat, and the rakish Henri de Guise (Gaspard Ulliel), fall in love, but Marie's father has promised her hand in ma... read more". Below the description is a rating section with a star icon and a "POST" button. The third listing is for "Hop" with a poster showing a rabbit. It says "58% liked it" and lists the cast: James Marsden, Kaley Cuoco, Elizabeth Perkins, Gary Cole, Tiffany Espensen, Hugh Laurie, and David Hasselhoff. Below the description is a rating section with a star icon and a "POST" button. On the right side, there are several interactive widgets: "Showtimes" with a "Browse By Title" dropdown and a "Go" button, and "Browse By Zip Code" with a "Go" button; "This Week on DVD" with a list of movies and their percentages: 1. Harry Potter and the Deathly Hollow... (87%), 2. Country Strong (62%), 3. White Material (61%), 4. Heartless (48%), 5. Farewell (&affare Farewell) (75%); "QuickRate It!" for the movie "Paul (2011)" with a star rating and buttons for "Want To See It" and "Not Interested"; and "What's Your Top Five?" with a link to "5 Greatest Comedians". At the bottom left, there is a "Top Box Office" section with the text "All in theaters".

If you are a movie lover, you must have Flixster. It will help you discuss the movies you have watched with your Facebook friends, rate those movies, or keep track of updates about new movies or DVD releases. This application allows you to set up a list of movies you want to watch, from which you can 'invite' other friends to watch. You can also use the application to join quizzes about movies, then call your friends to join and score for the 'dom capacitor'.

Reverse the word

The screenshot shows a Facebook sharing interface. At the top, there is a "Share:" button followed by several sharing options: "Status", "Question", "Photo", "Link", and "Video". Below these options is a text input field containing the string "...upside down typing, oh". To the right of the input field is a "Share" button. The background of the interface is black.

It is possible to make your updates on Facebook more interesting and impressive by leaving the text upside down. Go to TypeUpsideDown.com, type the text to update the status, and you will see the upside down text in the mailbox at the bottom. You just need to copy and paste that content into the Facebook status box. This method can also be used for Twitter, YouTube, Gchat and other messaging services.

The service provides 'Purify' information on Facebook

Facebook Purity is an extensive browser compatible with Firefox, Chrome, Safari and Opera, enabling you to control the spread of your Facebook feed service. Some filters answer questions from Facebook, apply 'trash' like questions and play games.

Edit photos in Facebook

Before you want to upload photos during your weekends, you should go to Facebook Picnik application, which is an image editor. Some basic features of this application are cutting, cropping, shrinking, adjusting exposure and color, sharpness, excluding red eyes, along with a number of effects tools, fonts .

Sync contact list

AddressBookSync helps streamline your contact lists. This is an application for Mac OS X that helps to transfer Facebook profile images and date information to your address list on your Mac OS X and iCal computers (like your Outlook calendar). If your mobile phone supports synchronization with the contact list, when a call comes in, the image of that person is displayed. Similarly, the birth date in your contact list will sync with your iCal, keeping you up to date while not logged into Facebook.

You finished reading the article "10 essential applications and utilities for Facebook" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.