

10 signs of a bland man, but a bland person doesn't notice it

Do not make others laugh, do not know a good story, always work again ... if so, you are really bland.

1. Art of behavior when praised by someone
2. If you want to succeed, choose these people to be your friends
3. 45 the law is very true for life, so far as it is absorbed

Men no matter how good they are, how good the conditions are, but if they are bland people, even if you try, you will be hard to achieve success or simply find a woman for your life.

In each of us, everyone is afraid of becoming a bland, boring person in everyone's eyes. Because when they are with a boring person, they often have no stories to share, chat or worse, complain

Research by experts at the University of Virginia has shown that many participants opted for electric shocks instead of sitting opposite the blander thoughts. Check the sign to recognize a boring person through the list below.

1. Bland men often talk one way

Instead of maintaining the rhythm between speaking and listening, the bland man is usually in one-sided extremes - either just speaking, or just listening. "This is an asymmetry in the conversation between giving and receiving."

If you are talking in a group of friends, when you have just spoken but everyone around you is silent or switch to another topic, this shows that you are most likely a bland person.

2. Bland men often ignore body language when talking

Besides verbal communication, the body and face gestures are also very important in communication. However, bland men often overlook this factor when communicating with the opposite person.

Sometimes, the person talking to you suddenly fell silent and just nodded repeatedly, eyes looking up at the sky, driving the story to another topic . It is most likely because you are pale, not the person who is impolite.

To prevent this bad case from happening to you, when talking, you should be observant, observe the body's body gestures to avoid being in the countryside, talking alone.

3. Inability to make people laugh

Men with a sense of humor will attract women and people around. To have that humor, your brain must be flexible, a rich and important understanding of intelligence can be transformed, making the story much more attractive.

As for the bland people, the way they connect the story is poor, so don't say anything about making people laugh.

4. Bored people always repeat the same thing

Psychologist Andy Warwick said boring people often repeat their work. For example, they just call a familiar drink when going to coffee, to a certain place just by the old way . but don't dare to challenge new things. It can be said that boring people will live a sedentary life.

5. Casual bland men . nothing to say

Hyperactivity, laughing and carefree, alone without paying attention to everyone around, this will make people appreciate you a rude, rude person. Conversely, this personality is easy to become a bland person.

A part of the bland people believe that they are interesting people, so they talk a lot but cannot convince anyone. There are also boring people who believe that the best way is never to say anything.

6. There is no righteous opinion

When you do not think seriously about a problem, then in discussions you will not give any opinion of yourself. Under these circumstances, tedious people often choose to agree with the majority. They are not sad to reject other people's opinions, even if they do not agree.

7. Don't know how to tell stories or tell someone's story in a boring way

Attractive and engaging storytelling is a simple way for you to take down people, especially women.

An interesting and funny story will help you impress people around you. And those who are very smart or use expensive brands, don't know how to tell a story to attract people . as well as the hibiscus 'red without fragrance'.

8. There is no possibility of putting yourself in someone else's position or being unable to understand the insinuating words

Perhaps this is only suitable for children who are older, have not collided much, so the experience of survival is low. As for adults who are always like 'bewildered golden deer' it is best to rethink yourself. Because outside of society, not everyone is good, honest with you.

9. Don't like or fear new things

Brain research shows that we have nerves looking for novelty. It is a need in human evolution. If you don't provide anything new to the listener, they won't excite.

"For me, the boring person is someone I can't learn anything new from them," said expert Stan Hayward. The stories from them are peaceful, gloomy. And according to this expert, it takes time for us to know if someone is really boring, although some people give signals quite early.

10. There is no possibility of making other people want to join your conversation

What makes a person become "lacking in salt" is not caring about other people in the conversation, people are talking about the topic, but you go in a different direction, this will make people around annoyed and dismissed immediately.

So, when you talk, you need to catch the correct line of the story that people are saying, in order to avoid the situation, 'he said, she said duck' and was said to be bland.
