3. iLoveIMG

iLoveIMG is known as one of the best photo editing software for PC. The software allows for multi-faceted editing of images in the system. It provides all the features on the home page with a description of the said feature. This photo editing software is very neat and does its job well. The iLoveIMG photo editing software even provides multi-language access.

iLoveIMG online photo editor prioritizes the needs of its customers. Therefore, it does not alter the quality of the image while editing. This photo editing software reduces the size of the image to take up less space while maintaining the best quality. iLoveIMG photo editing software provides a high-end security system to protect all edited files. It automatically deletes all files from the storage folder in two hours.

iLoveIMG doesn't have the photo editing chops of Kapwing, but you can still find the elements you need to create your own meme. You can upload your own image or browse your library, choose from two text templates, then add and format your caption.

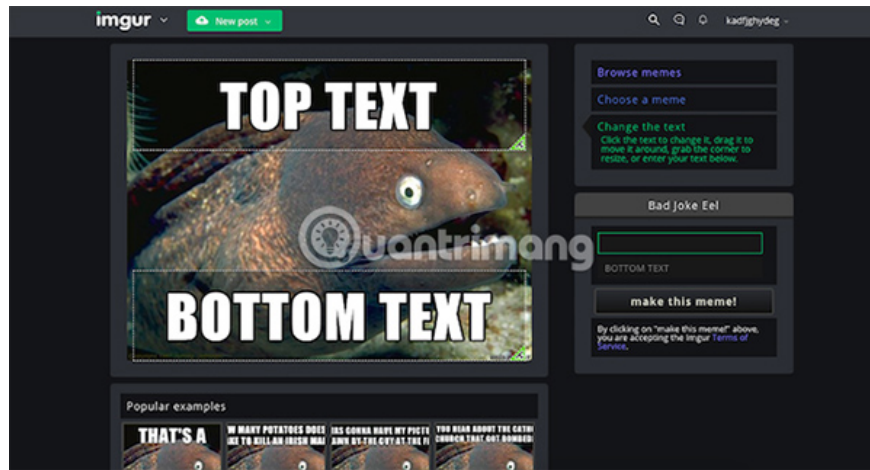

The great thing about iLoveIMG is that it has a well-labeled meme library that you can choose from. The library is filled with trending images, not just old RageGuy templates.

Another benefit is that you can download the meme without a watermark or even save it to Google Drive and Dropbox. There are also a few handy tools for editing the final image, such as cropping, resizing, and compressing.

4. Imgur

Imgur is a free image hosting service that is a great help in your daily work with various types of graphics. It is a social networking platform where users share images online.

Founded in 2009, Alan Schaad first developed Imgur as a side project while he was studying at Ohio University. Alan Schaad initially designed Imgur as a sort of giveaway for Reddit users, and Imgur immediately went viral, growing from 1,000 visits per day to 1 million in just its first 5 months.

Thanks to its use on other social networks like Facebook and Digg, Imgur has grown in popularity since then. By 2014, two-thirds of all popular posts on Reddit were links to Imgur images. In 2015, the social media platform received another boost, raising $40 million in funding from Andreessen Horowitz.

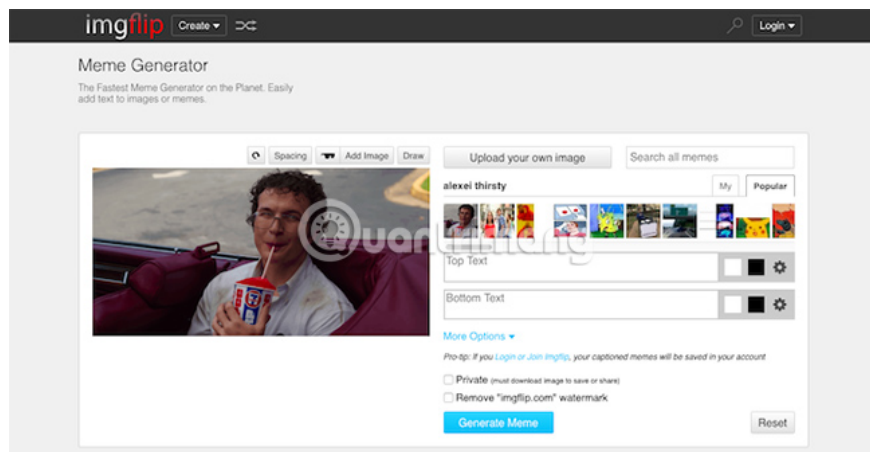

Imgur is like the Reddit of images, where users share everything from pictures of their puppies to funny GIFs, so of course Imgur's meme generator deserves a spot on today's list.

The obvious benefit of creating memes on Imgur is that you can share them instantly, and even see them gain popularity and go viral. You can build a meme library based on all the classics, but they tend to lag behind the newest ones.

If you can't find the meme you want in the templates, you can upload an image from your computer. And when you're done adding captions, you can download or embed your meme, as well as publish it to Imgur.

Imgur is the easiest way to explore and enjoy the magic of the Internet. It's where you'll find hilarious images, memes, GIFs, and visual stories. Powered by a passionate community of people from all over the world, anyone can join in to share interesting content and vote on the best ones. You'll always find something on Imgur to make you smile and brighten your day.

While creating your own memes with Imgflip is completely free, there are a few things to keep in mind. First, when you create a meme, it will automatically be published to the site. Second, you will need an account if you want to download the image. Third, you will need a paid subscription to remove the watermark.
