

13 great integration for Slack application you should not ignore

The following article will introduce you to 15 useful integrations for the Slack application that you should use. Let's find out soon!

One of the main reasons many people have become fans of Slack is because the development related to the integration for Slack is happening very exciting. Basically, the integration for Slack application is where another web service is connected to Slack. Think of it as a Chrome plugin or Firefox extension. The only drawback is that free accounts are limited to a maximum of 10 integrations.

Slack helps reduce user dependence on email. Using Slack, you can track customers and colleagues, while not being bothered by other emails, which can distract you for hours.

The following article will introduce you to 15 useful integrations for the Slack application that you should use. Let's find out soon!

Like HNSlack, FastVoted gives you the 'prevailing posts' in your Slack channel, sourced from Product Hunt, Hacker News, Twitter and Reddit. There are no more than 15 messages sent every day, so you don't have to worry about having a bunch of spam hitting your channel.

9. Gdrive2slack.optionfactory.net

If you have multiple users on your Google Drive account (such as a company's Drive account), tracking all changes that users make can be very difficult and time consuming. You can use this integration to track where, creators and editing content. Every time you have an edit in your Drive account, you'll be notified in your Slack channel.

10. Clubble.io

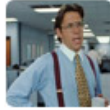

Slack quickly became one of the most popular tools. But some people still insist on using email. So what do you do when you need to put them in a discussion on Slack, but they refuse to sign up for Slack? In that situation use Clubble.

Clubble acts as a bridge between the Slack and the email inbox. People can be invited to join Slack discussions via their email addresses and email senders will receive all replies in their inbox. They can also reply via their inbox. In Slack, answers appear as normal Slack answers.
