

20 The most important website in the history of Internet development (part 1)

Below is a list of websites that play an important role in the development history of the Internet, their formation and development become a premise for modern Internet today.

Below is a list of websites that play an important role in the development history of the Internet, their formation and development become a premise for modern Internet today.

Google (1998)

Larry Page and Sergey Brin, two graduate students of Stanford University founded in 1998. Google is recognized worldwide as the most powerful and powerful search and search tool on the Internet. Searching on Google is more than just information, but also images and videos.

YouTube (2005)

YouTube is the largest video sharing site in the world created by 3 former Paypal employees on the occasion of valentine 2005. Today, users can not only watch, download, share videos but also can livestream and manage Your youtube channel on YouTube.

Facebook (2004)

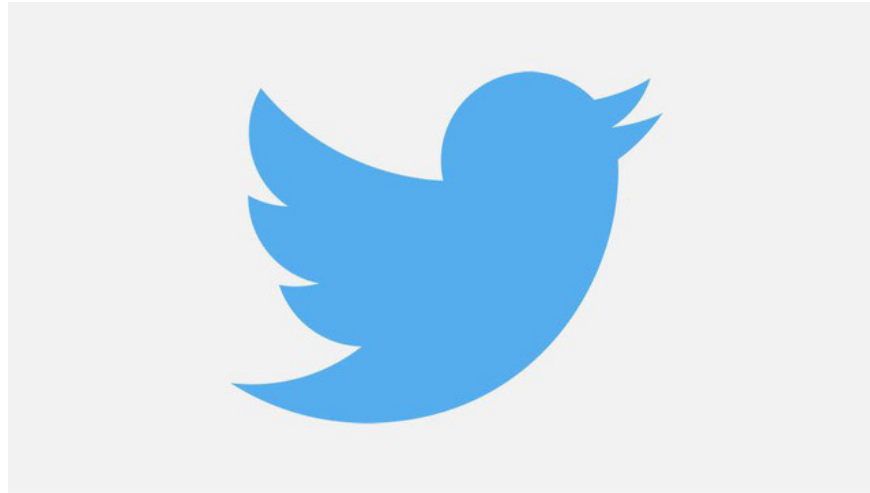

Facebook's start is just a small connection between students at Harvard University, the US named Facemash created by Mark Zuckerberg.

Over a decade of ups and downs, Facebook has become the largest and most popular social networking site in the world. Today, Facebook also encroached on many other areas such as live broadcast, business support .

1. Journey Facebook becomes the world's largest social network

Twitter (2006)

Based on the idea of tweets, a small piece of news, Twitter has quickly become a well-known social network.

Each tweet is limited to 280 characters, dedicated to posting personal messages or news media, but its speed is as fast as Facebook.

Reddit (2005)

Reddit is an entertainment forum founded by Steve Huffman and Alexis Ohanian. This website specializes in providing social communication, social news and online news. Reddit members can post a variety of content such as casual stories, routine science, personal or genre somewhat somewhat frightening.

Amazon (1994)

Amazon is one of the world's largest online shopping services with all goods and global shipping.

1. Instructions on how to buy online on Amazon

Ebay (1995)

EBay is an online auction site, anyone can buy and sell goods and services. On ebay, people can find extremely special goods at the price of 'heaven'.

1. Experience ordering online shopping on Ebay

IMDB (1993)

IMDB stands for The Internet Movie Database, an online movie database of the world. Here, users can learn all information about movies such as movies, actors, directors, filmmakers, etc. As of 2017, this website has 4.1 million films 7.7 million actors and 70 million. registered users.

Github (2008)

Github is an extremely useful source code repository service for the open source programming community. This is considered one of the factors that have a great influence on the IT world.

Netflix (1997)

Netflix is ??a global video-on-demand data transfer service, DVD rental is paid for in the United States via email. With over 69.17 million people subscribing and owning over 100,000 different DVD movie titles, Netflix is ??considered a movie publishing site that outperforms the traditional release model. Currently, Netflix is ??not only available in the US, but also worldwide.

1. How to download movies on Netflix to your phone
2. Instructions for downloading movies from Netflix in Windows 10
3. How to view hidden categories on Netflix?

20 The most important website in Internet development history (part 2)

You finished reading the article "20 The most important website in the history of Internet development (part 1)" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.