

25 extremely useful websites and applications will definitely make you smarter

Here are 25 extremely useful websites and applications that will make you smarter, helping your study and daily life more effective!

1. Adapt to 7 daily routines that help balance life - work
2. 13 best free eBooks for Web Designer
3. 50 soft skills needed to be happy and successful for life (Part 1)

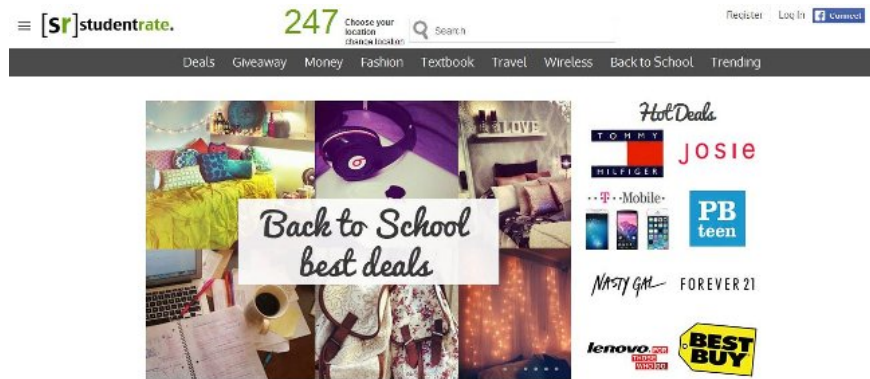

Many people believe that student learning is now much easier than before. All the information they need is available on the Internet, so just search google for a few hours, they can immediately complete the exercise or academic projects. Obviously, that is not wrong, but not entirely true. The current curriculum is much more difficult and complex, requiring independence, creativity as well as effectiveness from each student.

Fortunately, there are many applications and websites that help students solve these challenges: improving time management skills, planning, thinking, writing, socializing and many other aspects. in life. We will showcase 25 of the dozens, hundreds of applications that help you improve your skills; Help learning and life become more effective than ever.

Please refer to 25 websites and extremely useful applications that will make you smarter , help your study and daily life more effective!

1. StudentRate

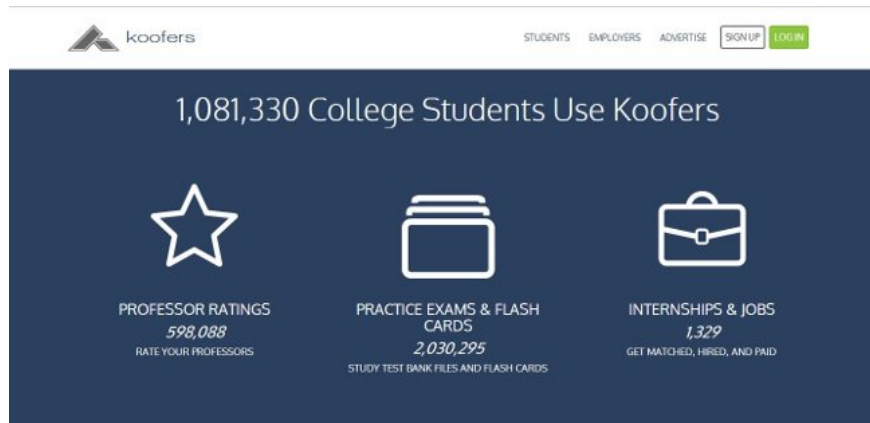

When becoming a tough first college and university student, all we often encounter is how to manage money. StudentRate.com is a website where you can find great discounts and hunting options for school supplies, technology items, clothing, .

2. NinjaEssays

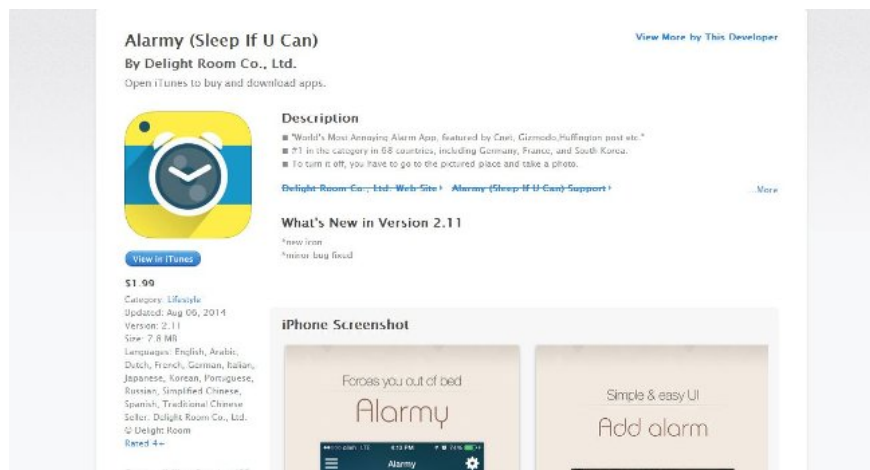

With the help of this website, any of your articles will be repaired, contributed and completed before submitting or presenting to the public. This site will send your articles to real experts to fix the errors. So you can be sure that the results will be great.

3. Koofers

Koofers allows you to access the Flashcard (the type of card that carries information (words, numbers or both) used for classroom study or in personal research) and prepare for the exam more easily. In addition, students can use Koofers to find out more information about jobs and internships; Suitable vacancies.

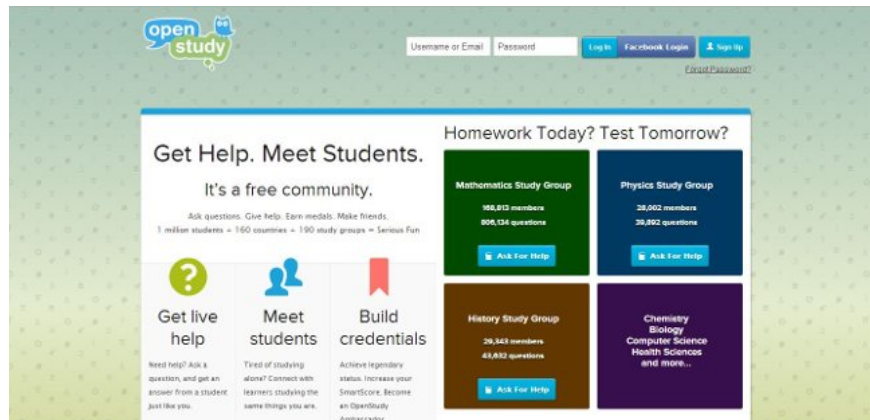

4. Alarmy (Sleep If U Can)

Leaving school because getting up late is an unacceptable thing if you want to be an excellent University student. Alarmy can be an annoying app but it will certainly pull you out of bed right away. See if Alarmy can help you with this!

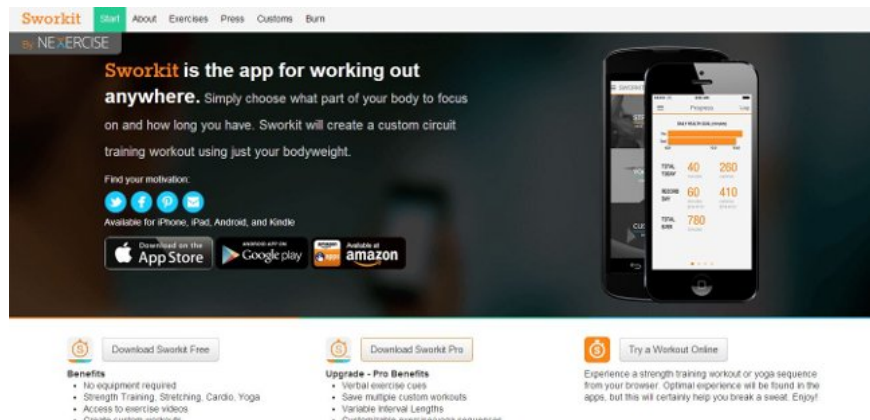

1. Alarmy (Sleep If U Can) for Android

5. OpenStudy

Whenever you need to study hard to prepare for the exam, you can connect immediately with OpenStudy and become a member of the history, math, physics, chemistry and other courses of birth Other members to review the lesson.

6. Sworkit

When you forget to exercise, sports, this app will remind you to take the time to invest in your health.

1. Sworkit for Android - Exercise on Android

7. Help.PlagTracker

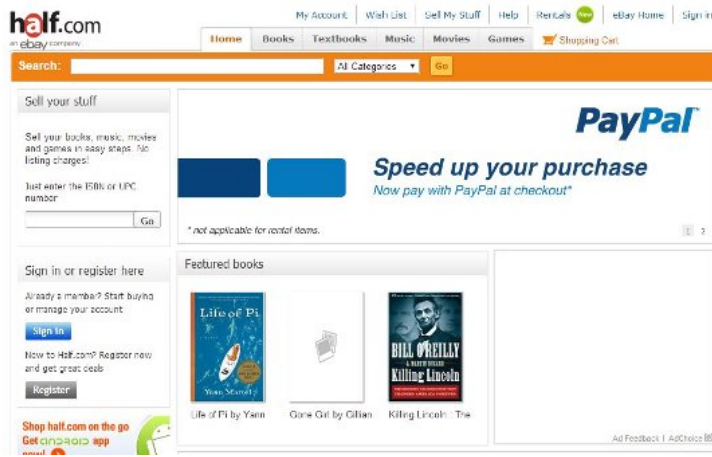

When writing an essay, surely you want it to be perfect in every way. At this site, you can easily hire an expert to "refine", edit your article before submitting it to the professor.

8. Audible

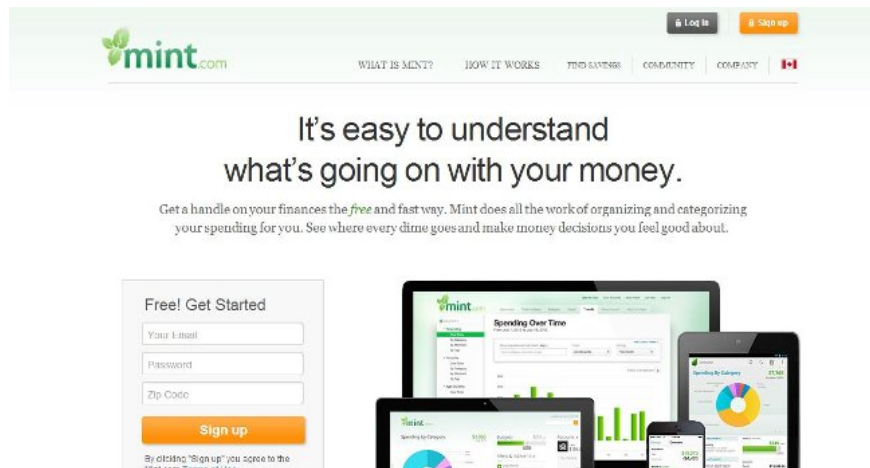

When tired of reading in Literature class, listening to an audiobook will help you a lot. Not only that, Audible will make your queuing or walking time more enjoyable.

9. Half

With this website, you can earn a small amount of money just by selling your books. Currently, there are many websites that have the same function but Half works more easily.

10. Mint

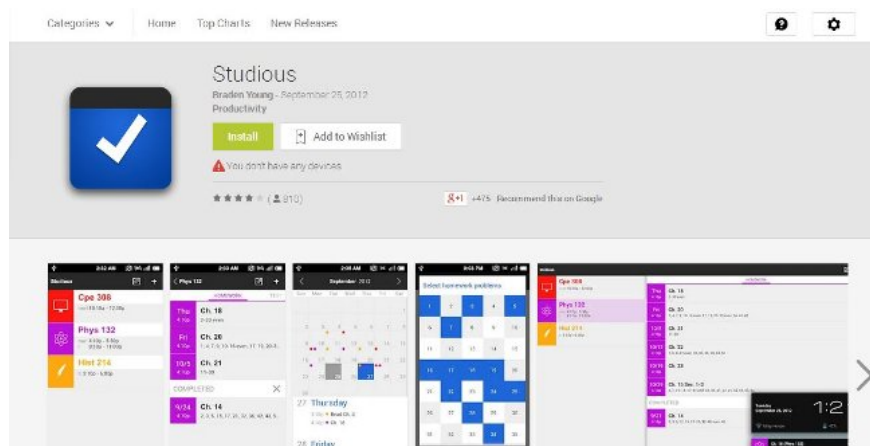

Money management is a relatively difficult skill if you're just a freshman and haven't had any experience at all. However, things will become "smoother" using Mint - a completely free website that helps you sort and sort different types of expenses.

11. InstaGrok

You will find topics that interest you or involve exercises as diagrams. This not only helps you enjoy learning more, but also helps you remember information better.

12. Studious

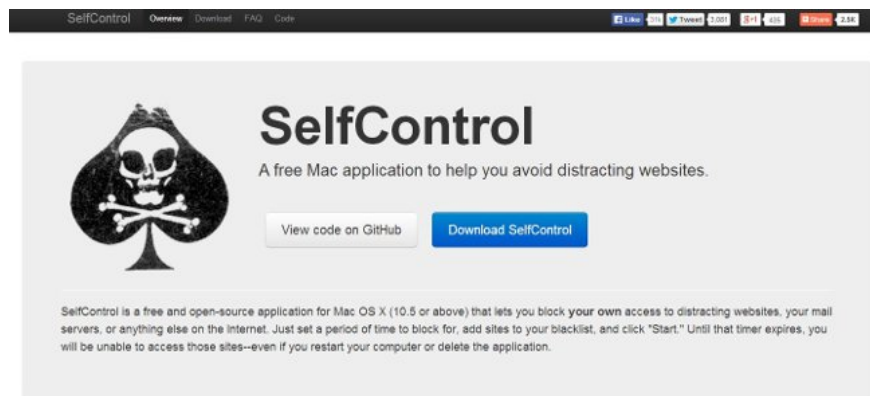

Make sure there are times when you forget to turn off your phone while in class and at the same time someone calls you. This Android app will help you avoid interrupting classes.

13. StudyBlue

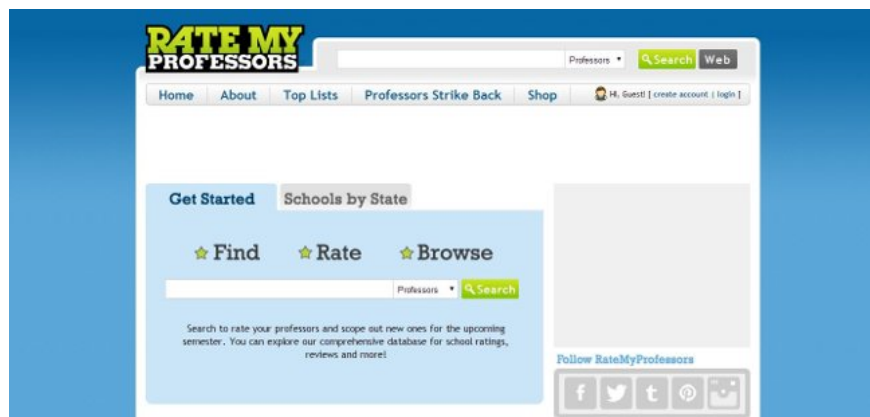

No matter how much I hate the writing of flashcard books and designs, I can't deny the importance of them in my studies? Studyblue lets you design funny flashcards and can record information anytime, anywhere.

14. SelfControl

The most important thing in learning is concentration and staying away from addictive things like Facebook, Twitter or Instagram. This free app from Mac will help you do that.

15. Rate My Professors

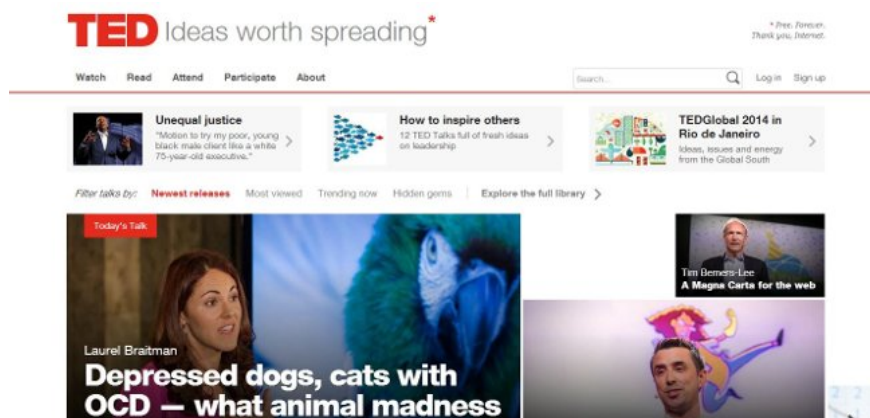

When you intend to create your own timetable, you can visit this website to check and evaluate your teacher qualifications.

16. iStudiez Pro

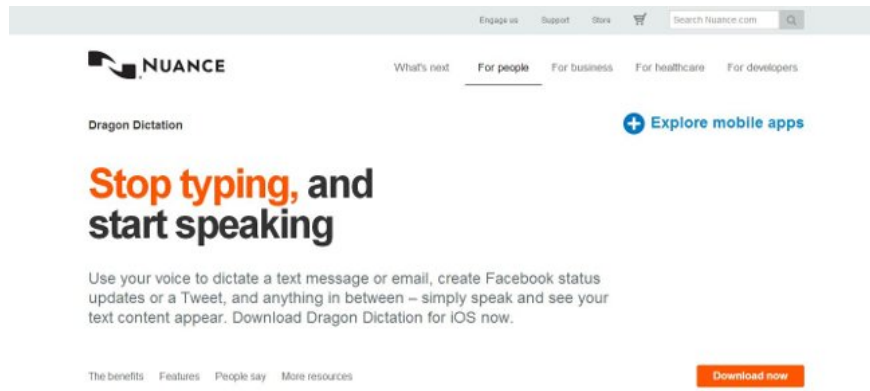

This great planning application will help you to organize your life intelligently. You can use it on your iPhone, iPad or MacBook to create a smart plan for your day's work.

17. TED

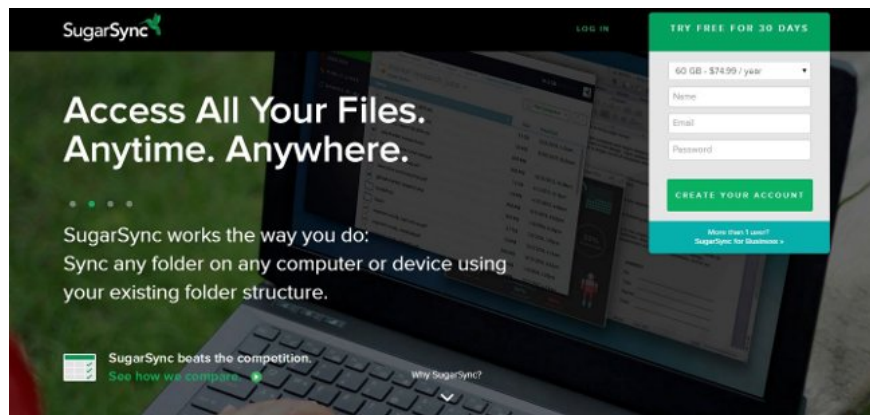

Featured speeches at this site are not only motivational, but also contain extremely useful information. TED is a reliable source of information you can use to get ideas and resources for your projects.

18. Dragon Dictation

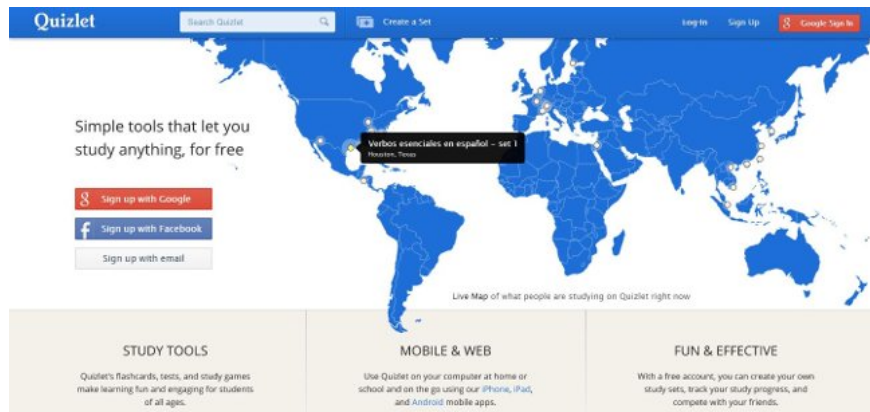

Instead of typing like a madman, you can become more productive by speaking out. Dragon Dictation will instantly transform your word into text.

19. SugarSync

Data files and folders containing your important information need to be protected to avoid loss. SugarSync will help you feel safe and make your work easier because it will sync files on multiple devices.

20. Quizlet

Quizlet allows you to learn vocabulary, language and many other free things. It supports effective research tools that will help you see learning as a fun activity.

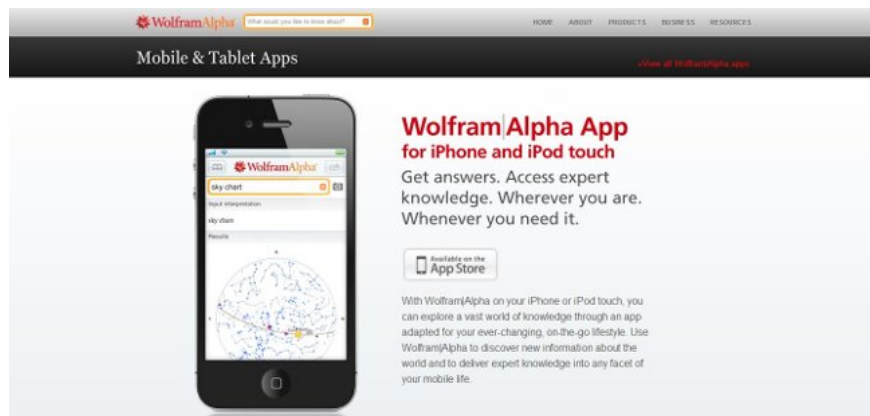

1. Quizlet for iOS 2.0 - Improved educational application on iPhone / iPad
2. Quizlet for Android - Learn new words in foreign languages ??with effective Flashcard
3. Quizlet - Website to support creating virtual courses

21. Dictionary.com Mobile

When you don't understand what your professor is saying, you can access this smartphone application and . translate them!

22. Wolfram Alpha

Wikipedia is really appreciated by everyone, but sadly, your professors don't like it. Thanks to this application, you can access professional knowledge and reliable information whenever you need it and anywhere.

23. Notella

When your professor mentions an unexpectedly important information, this app will help you not miss them. This quick note application will help you when you don't have enough speed to shorthand.

24. RealCalc

Quartic Software Home of RealCalc Scientific Calculator

Home News Screenshots FAQ Help View in mobile

Contents:
RealCalc
Latest News
RealCalc v1.7.4 released
RealCalc v1.7.3 released
RealCalc v1.7.2 released

RealCalc - A Realistic Scientific Calculator for Android

RealCalc is a slightly retro but fully featured scientific calculator which looks and operates exactly like the real thing.

Features include:

- Previous result history.
- Unit conversions for distance, area, volume, mass, speed, time, force, pressure, energy, power, temperature and data sizes (user-customizable on RealCalc Plus).
- Physical constants table (user-customizable on RealCalc Plus).
- Powers, roots, logarithmic and exponential functions.
- Percentage calculations.
- Fraction calculations and conversion to/from decimal (RealCalc Plus only).
- Degrees, minutes and seconds support (RealCalc Plus only).
- Trigonometric functions in degrees, radians or gradients.
- Hyperbolic functions.
- Factorials, permutations and combinations.
- Fixed-point, scientific and engineering notation display modes, with adjustable decimal places.
- Hexadecimal, octal and binary modes with logical operator functions.
- 18 memories with memory contents dating for store and recall.
- Operates in traditional algebraic and RPN modes.
- Adjustable haptic feedback and long-click support.
- Copy and paste support for display value, internal value, memories, history and RPN stack.
- Customizable decimal point and digit grouping format.
- Comprehensive built-in help.
- High-resolution graphics for any display size or resolution.
- Portrait and landscape orientation (RealCalc Plus only).

You can download it from the Google Play store - search for RealCalc or click on the icon above.

You can also find user reviews and other information on the Google Play website here.

If you find RealCalc useful, please consider purchasing RealCalc Plus to gain access to extra features and to support further development. RealCalc Plus can be found here. Thank you.

With the help of this calculator application, you can enjoy the calculation more. No need to invest in an expensive computer to do anything, you can absolutely do it with RealCalc.

1. RealCalc Scientific Calculator for Android 2.1 - Versatile virtual computer application on Android

25. BenchPrep

BenchPrep also provides an impressive library for you about Flashcard, practice questions and lessons.

See also: 29 ways to end popular English emails and their meanings

Having fun!

You finished reading the article "25 extremely useful websites and applications will definitely make you smarter" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.