

3 ways to kill flies do not cost a penny but very effective

Creating traps with apple cider vinegar, cloves or mint is one of many ways to kill flies extremely fragrant, economical and extremely effective.

The Lunar New Year 2016 is coming very close and one of the things that women are most concerned about today is how to not be hated by the hateful flies to "visit" food to prepare for Tet. However, with 3 ways that cannot be simpler than the following, this worry will completely be removed.

1. Create a fly trap to kill flies with apple cider vinegar and soap

Step 1: Take a bottle of soda water, mineral water bottle ., use the scissors to cut the bottle into 2 parts so that the upper part can fit snugly into the lower part like the image below to make the fly trap tool.

Step 2: Pour the mixture of water + soap / dishwashing liquid + 1 to 2 tablespoons of apple cider vinegar into the newly created trap. The aroma of vinegar will attract flies and soap will make flies not quickly "drowned". You can place traps around the kitchen, in the corner of the wall or near a vegetable storage area.

2. Create a "house fly" trap with clove leaves

Put a little clove on a small cotton cloth. You can replace the fabric with an unused towel or an old shirt. Then, tie it tightly and hang it in front of the main door, window or wherever flies can fly into the house.

In addition, you can also kill flies with clove seeds as follows: Create small holes (about 20 to 30 holes) on an apple / pear / orange . and put the cloves into it. Water loss will cause the stench of cloves to emit and flies must be discarded.

3. Kill flies with mint

You can put mint on the same cloth as using clove leaves to kill flies or shreds placed on a table or near a window. Flies don't like the smell of mint, so they will have to fly away.

In addition, creating a combination of honey + molasses + maple is also a way to kill flies very effectively, fragrant and not toxic offline.

Wish you successful application.
