

4 free online document sharing sites

On the Internet, there are many free websites that support users to post photos and videos ... to share quickly and easily with friends without losing time to register an account. Here, we would like to introduce to you 4 such services.

On the Internet, there are many free websites that support users to post photos and videos . to share quickly and easily with friends without losing time to register an account. Here, we would like to introduce to you 4 such services.

File Dropper

File Dropper is dubbed the "easiest file storage site". When using File Dropper uploader, you can download and store large files indefinitely. File Dropper does not require any account registration steps like other services. Once the files have been uploaded, you can email and share them to others.

Virtually all file hosting and sharing services support a limit of 100MB for each file (some services allow up to 1GB). However, when it comes to File Dropper, this limit is raised to 5GB. So you can store any file format you like.

Wikisend

Wikisend provides a file size limit of 100MB and the default time to store is only 7 days. Wikisend's interface is divided into two separate tags, Upload and Download. When uploading a file, you will receive the ID code of the file to download so you can share it with your friends.

In addition, you can also set properties for files before and after uploading to Wikisend servers, but the editing feature after uploading only applies to registered accounts. You can change the file name, increase the storage time to 90 days, add a description of the file and protect the file with a password.

MyFreeFileHosting

Coming to the free MyFreeFileHosting service, you can quickly share documents for friends via the Internet with a very fast download speed. Here, you will easily download the required files to the server of the service, then wait to receive the download links sent via the notified email.

MyFreeFileHosting has the same interface of MediaFire. The highlight of this service is completely free, easy to use and does not need to register. The site specifies the maximum size of each uploaded file.

Easyshare

In addition to file storage, Crocko's Easyshare service has many other useful features. The highlight of this service compared to other sites is to allow 8 files to be uploaded at the same time. After the upload process is complete, you will receive the URL of the downloaded file to be able to share it with others.

Besides the usual Web upload feature, Easyshare also offers many other options such as Remote upload, FTP upload, API upload and Widget upload; however, these options only apply to registered accounts.

1. 6 simple and easy to use online sharing services
2. 10 best photo hosting and sharing sites
3. Share experience in selecting and using cloud services effectively

Having fun!

You finished reading the article "4 free online document sharing sites" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---