

4 player game, easy 4 player game

4 player game is a game you can play with your friends on the same keyboard or phone screen.

Multiplayer games can be Multiplayer, Co-op or games that we play together on a smartphone. The number of players can be from 2 to 4 people or more.

Below TipsMake.com we would like to introduce to you 4-player games, 4-player games for you and your group of friends.

Party Toons

Play Party Toons

What is Party Toons?

This co-op party game can be played with up to four players. In Party Toons, players compete in a series of randomized mini-games with fun, little characters. You can also unlock additional skins as you play, allowing for deeper character customization.

This game is great to play in a group, like all party games. There are four mini-games per round, but the game itself is so entertaining that you'll want to play it over and over again. The games aren't too difficult either, which makes for a fun time.

How to play Party Toons

This game is the definition of a digital party. The atmosphere is electric right from the lobby as four quirky characters jostle and dance around waiting for the game to begin. The chaos erupts as random mini-games pop up, from dodging bombs falling from the sky, to pushing each other off a slippery ice floor, to fighting over precious pastries.

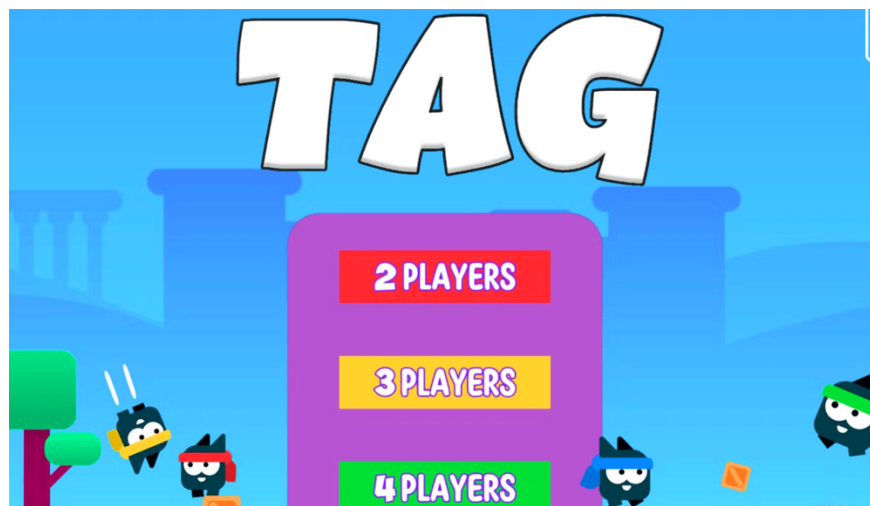

Unlocking skins isn't just for looks, it's also a way to flex your skills to other players. With its simple rules and short game length, Party Toons is accessible and highly addictive, the perfect hangout glue that turns even the most laid-back friends into fierce competitors.

TAG

Play TAG game

What is TAG?

TAG is a fun, action-packed tag game that supports 2-4 players on the same device (local multiplayer). Players control characters in a 2D arena, using portals and bounces to chase or escape. The goal is to touch opponents to become the "chaser" or avoid being touched, creating a simple, competitive experience suitable for all ages.

How to play TAG game

In TAG, one player is chosen as the 'tagger,' whose job is to touch the others. The remaining players run away, using portals and bouncers in the arena to avoid them. When touched, that player becomes the tagger. The gameplay requires quick reflexes and strategy, with short (a few minutes) games providing instant entertainment. The simple interface and low skill requirements make TAG accessible, especially for gatherings with friends or family.

TAG is a local multiplayer game that doesn't require an internet connection, making it easy to play in groups. It's a favorite on Poki, a platform with over 90 million monthly players, and often appears on lists of popular multiplayer games.

Temple Of Boom

Play Temple Of Boom

What is Temple Of Boom?

Temple of Boom is a fast-paced, gun-filled 2D platformer. In co-op mode, the game shines brightest when you and your teammates are covering each other, fighting off a constant barrage of monsters and enemies that come from all sides. The tactical element lies in weapon management.

You start with a basic pistol, but randomly spawned treasure chests will give you everything from shotguns to grenade launchers to lasers. Deciding who picks up which weapons and how to coordinate firepower effectively is key to surviving increasingly difficult levels. It's incredibly satisfying to clear a level full of enemies with a friend and advance to the next area together.

How to play Temple Of Boom?

This game has a single-player mode, but it's much better when played with someone else. Go head-to-head in an all-out gunfight or work together cooperatively. Either way, it's sure to be a lot of fun.

The game features fun 8-bit character designs, great temple maps, and treasure chests with lots of creative guns. It's a lot of fun to play, and there's a great sense of accomplishment when you fight off waves of enemies and explore the different towers in the game.

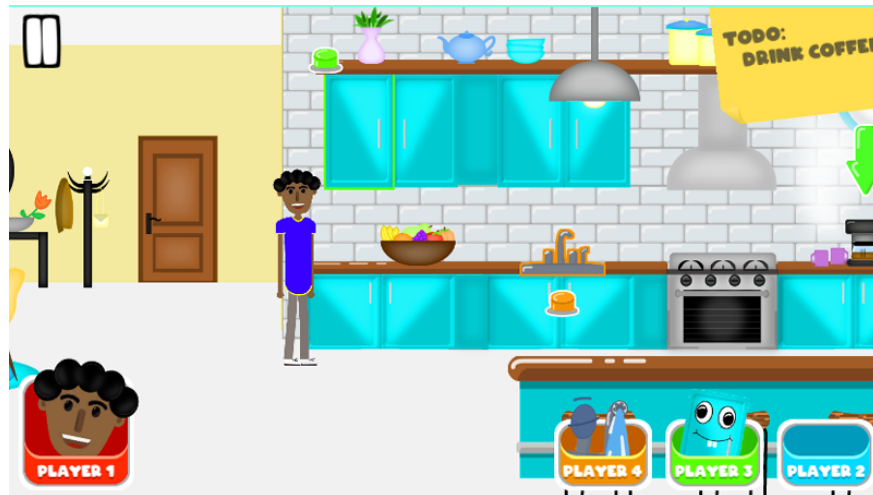

House Of Hazards

Play House of Hazard

What game is House Of Hazards?

House of Hazards is a playground of destruction and laughter. Your goal is simple: complete household chores like making coffee, watering the plants, or picking up the mail. But the problem is, other players act as 'fate,' and they can trigger a series of traps to get in your way.

Imagine trying to walk across the living room, and your opponent triggers a chandelier to fall on your head. Or while you're washing the dishes, a faucet suddenly shoots water at a high pressure. The humor of the game comes from these silly and unexpected accidents. Each round is a series of failed attempts to the laughter of your friends, turning the most boring tasks into dangerous adventures.

How to play House Of Hazards?

This game can make even the simplest tasks incredibly difficult. In House of Hazards, you go up against four other players as they all try to hinder each other and prevent others from completing various tasks.

The obstacles are hilarious, like slices of toast flying out of the toaster to knock the player down or drawers automatically flying out, making for a very fun game. Between each round, different penalties make the game even more challenging. And the game itself can last quite a while, making this a fun game to play at home if you have some free time.

Crazy Cars

Play Crazy Cars

What is Crazy Cars?

Crazy Cars is a game where two players race on a crazy obstacle course with their cars. What makes this game great is that both players can also control the same car.

You and your friends can play entirely on one keyboard, so if you don't want to race, you can cooperate (or hinder each other) by sharing a car. The map in this game is fun to explore. There are many areas where players can drive off the track, crash into fences, and perform all sorts of stunts. This game is perfect for anyone looking for something light-hearted and fun.

How to play?

Crazy Cars breaks all the rules of a typical racing game. The most unique mode, where two people control a car, is a true test of friendship. One person controls the gas and brakes, the other handles the steering. The result can be an incredibly coordinated performance, or a mobile disaster as the two constantly "troll" each other, causing the car to spin in place or plummet off a cliff.

The game map is more like a giant sandbox than a racetrack, with tons of shortcuts, crazy jumps, and destructible objects. The goal isn't just to get to the finish line first, but to explore, mess around, and see who can pull off the craziest stunts without blowing up the car.

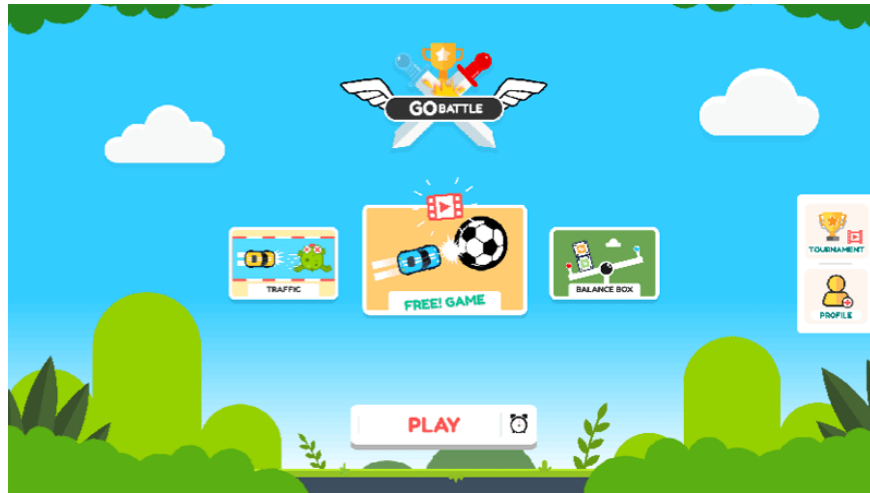

GoBattle

Play GoBattle

What is GoBattle game?

GoBattle is like a miniature Olympic tournament for two players. The random selection system ensures that no two matches are exactly the same, forcing players to be flexible and good at different genres. One game you might be straining your brain in a memory game, the next you might be testing your reflexes in a beach volleyball match.

Creating profiles and tracking scores creates an engaging meta-game where you and your opponent can compete to see who is the most 'all-rounder' after a series of matches. The colorful graphics and adorable characters take the stress out of competition, focusing on pure fun. This is a great option for couples who want a fighting game that's varied without getting bored.

How to play?

With a bright art style and tons of gameplay options, this game can keep you entertained for hours. GoBattle is a local two-player game where you can take part in a variety of arcade games. From volleyball to memory games, the possibilities for what game you get are endless as each round is randomized.

You also have the opportunity to create a profile where you can save and track your progress in the game. This game is definitely one of the best multiplayer games out there, simply because it is so versatile. All arcade games are fun to play, and playing against friends makes them even more fun.

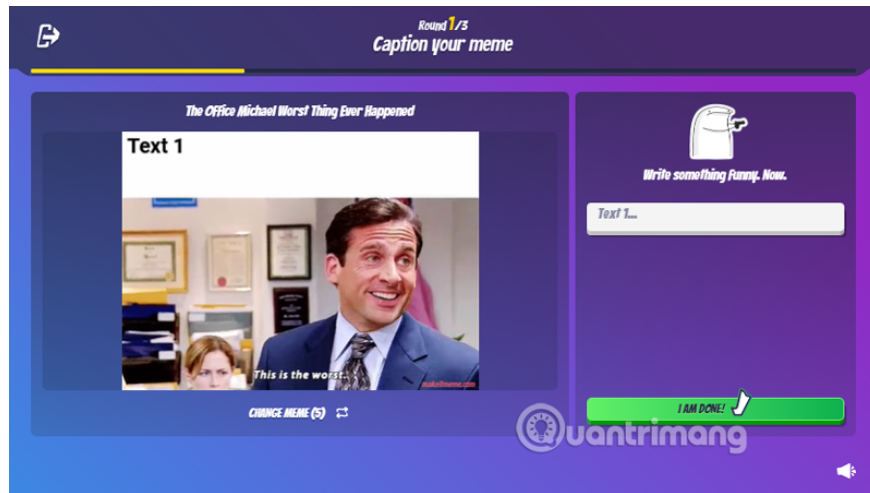

Make It Meme

Play Make It Meme

What game is Make It Meme?

This game doesn't have 4 separate drivers like the 4 player games above, but it can be played by a lot of people because it's where you create memes based on a given template, and then all the memes are shared with a player lobby where people can vote for the best one. This game has a humorous simplicity, as the name suggests.

It can be played online or in custom lobbies with friends, and the latter is much more fun. It's a game that can last a long time without getting boring, especially when you're with friends. The meme templates are great, and there's a real opportunity to get creative when creating memes. It's also fun to see what other people come up with.

How to play?

Make It Meme is the ultimate test of your creativity and sass. The game gives you a random meme image and your task is to write the most funny, clever, or appropriate caption. The best part is that when played with friends, the "memes" created are often "inside" in nature, based on memories or jokes that only your group of friends will understand, making them doubly funny.

The voting round is the most exciting part, as you wait to see if your meme will be appreciated, and laugh together at the unique ideas of others. Make It Meme is not a game of skill, but rather about connecting, understanding, and creating laughter together. It is the perfect way to end the evening, ensuring that everyone has fun memories to take home.
