

5 remarkable changes in the update LOL 9.11

In this 9.11 version of LOL, in addition to updating new costumes, some generals will get nerf, some will be buffed and some will be fixed.

Update League of Legends, is when gamers are interested to see what new version will be changed and added in LOL. The upcoming 9.11 LOL version of Riot Games gives gamers familiar things. It's Buff and Nerf for the generals.

One of the most widely changed generals is Zac when the entire skill of this general has been returned to his previous state. This will bring a new element to the forest location at the current meta.

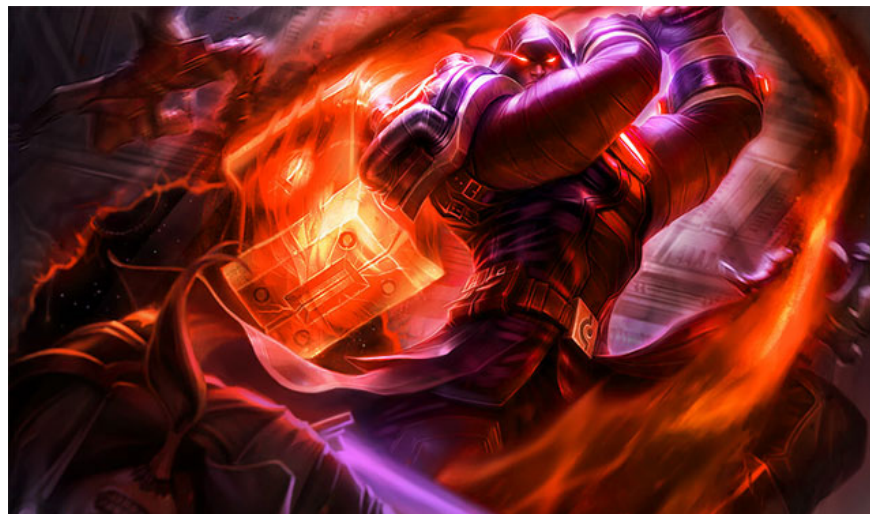

Other names that Riot Games has noticed in this version are Karthus, Jayce and Akali. All three names received light nerfs. Janna, after a long time disappearing from the School of Justice, officially returned after receiving the Riot Games buff.

5 new updates in 9.11 League of Legends

Hot generals have nerf strength

The thing that nerf strength, almost every version of Riot Games has done. This is used to balance the power of the outstanding generals in the previous version. In this version, there will be Riot Games blacklist names like Jayce, Karthus, Akali, all of which will be significantly reduced in strength.

Karthus has found a way for him to take the role of Jungle and is one of the top generals at this position. Amumu, although not used by many people, still has to receive a nerf, causing internal damage to be reduced from 13% to 10%.

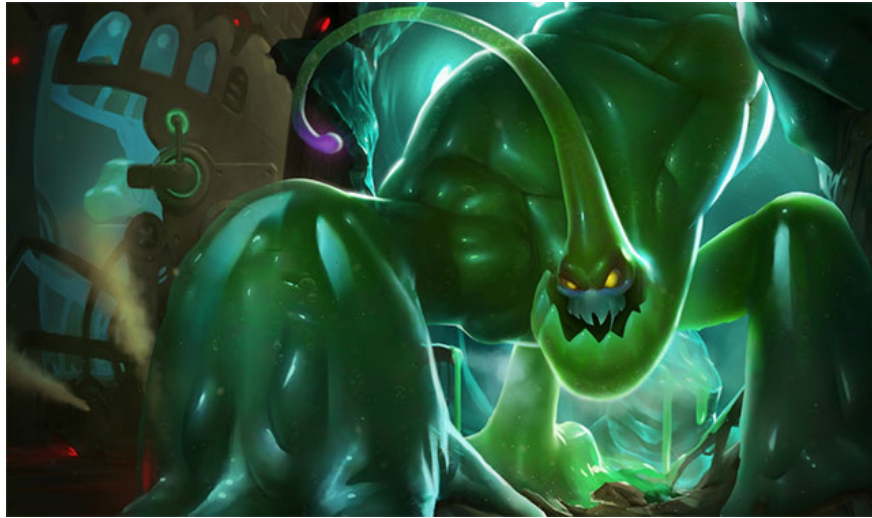

Changes in Yuumi

Yuumi is seen as a measure to distinguish the level of skill among gamers. If you enter into the hands of players with good strategic thinking and skills, Yuumi will be a frightening threat to the enemy.

On the contrary, when going into the hands of fickle gamers, Yuumi will become a useless . general. Although in version 9.11. Yuumi doesn't receive any buffs or nerfs at all. But this cat has had various bug fixes and tweaks to make the general's effects and actions smoother.

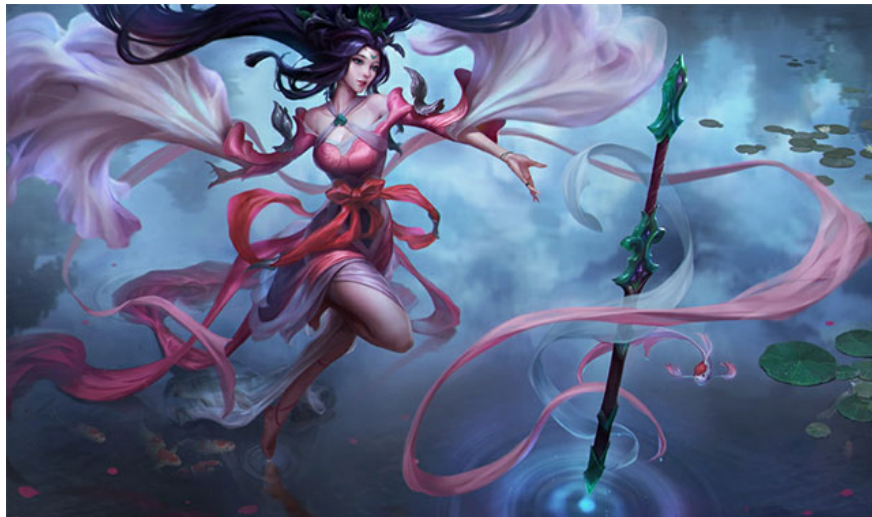

Zac

After being redone from 2017, Zac did not achieve the success of Riot Games designers. Riot Games' original goal was to turn Zac into a general.

Although in theory their purpose has been achieved, Zac's new suite is not as interesting as in the previous versions.

Janna

Normally, after a long time, Riot Games decided to increase Janna's power once. And that was done by Riot Games in version 9.11, but the special point of this power buff is her ability to create armor.

In addition to increasing the value of the E shield and reducing its cooldown, a new effect with this move is enough to make Janna much stronger at cover times for her teammates.

Tristana Little Devil

Tristana in the current meta is not really a popular choice for many gamers. But if you have noticed this general, it is possible to own Tristana Little Devil costume in version 9.11.

And since this is a costume voted by players, Riot Games will probably want all players to own this outfit. Comes with this outfit of course, other attractive costume packages will be released to gamers.

Those are some new updates in this 9.11 LOL version that players need to grasp to be able to experience new updates of the League of Legends.
