

5 uses of a facial cleaner compared to facial scrubs

Face washing machines are being sought and used by many women. What is the use of a face wash compared to a face scrub? Let's find us!

For women, the clean face is extremely important to help you have a clean acne skin and ventilation. In addition to hand-washing, many new technologies have been introduced to meet the needs of women, including scrubbing and washing machines. And the most popular is the type of washing machine. So what is a washing machine? What is the use of a face wash compared to a face scrub? Let's find us!

Quick view content

1. What is a washing machine?
2. 5 uses of a facial cleaner compared to facial scrubs
3. Note when using the washing machine

What is a washing machine?

Wash machine is a specialized tool for washing and facial skin. Unlike normal face scrub products, face wash machine is composed of two main parts: the brush head and the body. Inside the body of the engine and battery. This is what makes the difference as well as the advantages of this device compared to the face scrub and the hand wash method.

Most types of face wash machines are currently based on two main technologies: rotation or vibration. If the rub technology helps to create spiral motions, upward, from the inside out, the vibration technology helps generate hundreds of extremely light movements per second to remove dirt and sebum. skin without damaging the skin. Both technologies have almost the same effect in facials.

5 uses of a facial cleaner compared to facial scrubs

Helps clean face clean from deep inside

On start-up, the washer's soft hairs will have easier access to the pores and grooves on your face. In particular, with the vibration of the machine, they create vibrating, rotating movements to dislodge dirt, sebum located deep under the pores, preventing acne formation, something that facial scrubs can hardly do. fine okay. The contact heads whether cotton or broom you can rest assured will not cause damage because it is very soft.

Massage, relax for the skin

Using a washing machine is also a way to massage and relax your face after a tiring day, giving you the feeling of relaxation like a facial in spa salons. If you've ever been to a facial spa spa, you can see that most of these salons use high-end facial cleansers to care for their customers.

Firming skin, repelling signs of aging

The rotation, vibration movements of washing machine tools are similar to facial massage movements, helping the skin become firmer and reduce aging. Not only that, using a regular facial cleanser, problems such as blackheads, dark spots, melasma, large pores, skin aging . can be removed gradually.

Wash your face simple, fast

Compared to face scrubs and regular facial cleansing methods, instead of having to use the force of your hands to act on your face, with a washing machine, the job becomes much simpler. You just need to move the machine gently on the face, and the face cleanser has brush of the machine in charge. Therefore, you will not spend much effort and still be able to achieve cleaning effect.

Kill death celk

Not only does it remove excess oil and dirt, current facial cleaners can also help you exfoliate, returning smooth, pink-white skin. This is a use that regular facial scrubbing tools are hard to do.

Note when using the washing machine

1. Determine your skin type and skin condition to choose the right facial scrub for your skin.
2. For machines using brush heads, must be replaced every 3 months. After each use, remove the brush head from the camera body and wipe dry.

1. After use, clean, dry and store in a dry place to avoid mold.
2. If the device does not use batteries but plugged in directly, you should be more careful when using.
3. Do not rub the face of the brush close to the face because the skin will be susceptible to damage, flushing, causing irritation after washing the face. When using, just let the washing machine lightly touch the skin and then move around the face.

Above is our share about the use of washing machines. Hope it can help you better understand this product line and buy yourself a satisfactory washing machine.

You finished reading the article "5 uses of a facial cleaner compared to facial scrubs" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.