Orzly gaming keyboards and mice are another stylish option added to this list and won't burn you out. This combo also comes with a mousemat (trackpad or mouse pad) and headset. Unfortunately, the microphone is not compatible with the PS4 without an adapter.

Despite the 'soft' price, the keyboard has an attractive RGB LED light with 3 different color modes and a mouse with 4 adjustable DPI options.

For example, if you want to use an official PS4 headset instead of a third party, you can choose a set without a headset to save some money.

The mouse has 4 DPI options and custom colors. The keyboard has 7 different models and displays an attractive color range.

5. Seenda rechargeable keyboard and mouse combo

While not the most stylish or colorful selection on this list, Seenda's mouse and keyboard combo is still a good way to get started with playing PS4 games over Bluetooth. The lack of flashy colors and special effects will help reduce battery consumption. Therefore, the keyboard and mouse can be used daily for 3 consecutive months before needing to be recharged.

This combo is the best option for anyone interested in Bluetooth keyboards and mice in general. The slim and lightweight design makes this combo portable enough to carry with your tablet or phone.
