Games are a great way to bring great fun to any gathering. But in most situations, you will need to buy a board game or card game before the party starts.

However, there are a number of different iPhone games available, perfect for parties no matter how big or small. To help you get started, the following article will list some fun games on the iPhone.

What game play with your friends on iPhone?

1. Heads Up!
2. Evil Apples: Dirty as ____
3. Just Dance Now
4. The Truth Comes Out
5. What Would You Choose? Rather
6. Triple Agent!

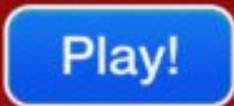

1. Heads Up!

BLOCKBUSTER MOVIES

For this deck of favorite movies, give clues to help your teammate guess which one is on the card, without saying any part of the movie name, and without rhyming!

For an extra challenge:
Don't use any celebrity or character names. Just talk out the plots!

From Ellen DeGeneres talk show host, Heads Up! is one of the most popular iPhone games available for parties. Perfect for all ages, the appeal of the game is largely due to its simplicity. The fact is that the game can be played anywhere, even with two people or a large group.

You will place an iPhone on the forehead and the phone screen will show one word from many different categories. Others give clues so you can guess the correct answer. If your guess is correct, tilt the phone screen down to draw a new card. Tilt up to skip words and display a new hint.

Some fun genres include celebrities, movies, animals, voices, etc. So you'll always find something new and interesting. At the end of the game, you can see exactly how well you did. As a hilarious highlight, you can even use the iPhone's front camera to record and then replay video footage of people trying to give a hint.

Download Heads Up! ($ 0.99 - 23,000 VND, in-app purchase available).

Make sure to hide the kids when playing Evil Apples: Dirty as _____. This is the digital version of the popular card game Cards Against Humanity. Be prepared to have a good laugh with friends!

To start, a questionnaire is displayed for all players. Each player then chooses an answer card to fill in the blanks. The selected referee will then select his or her favorite answer card. The first player to win in 7 rounds will be the final winner. The combination of questions and answers can range from simple to downright funny.

There are over 4,000 answer cards and 800 questionnaires to keep things interesting. You can play live with friends in a gathering or even at other times via text, Twitter or Facebook. A random blitz mode will even allow you to play immediately with strangers.

3. Just Dance Now

Dance is a great way to increase the fun at any party. And Just Dance Now brings that excitement to almost anywhere without a game console. The iPhone will function as a gaming controller, while any display such as an Apple TV, iPad, computer or Internet-connected Chromecast device will display all actions.

After a few minutes of setup, it's time to dance. While the big screen shows hops and motions, the iPhone will act as a motion tracker. There are over 400 different songs to dance. You can even create your own playlists for a party or any other time. All calories burned while dancing will also appear in Apple's Health app.

The free version of this game gives limited access to songs, but you can unlock the entire catalog through the in-app purchase or subscription feature.

DeGeneres made the list once again with another great party game. The Truth Comes Out is inspired by Cards Against Humanity, but adds something more personal, focused on you and your friends. You will need at least 3 people to play the game.

People will answer questions and players will then vote for their favorite answers. You will score when friends choose your answer. The player with the most points at the end of the game is the winner.

Paid monthly subscriptions will unlock access to hundreds of adult questions.

Get ready for the deception in Triple Agent !, a party game for 5 to 7 players. All you need is an iPhone.

Each round lasts about 10 minutes and has 12 different actions to create a different experience each time.

To begin, each player is assigned a role: Secret agent or double agent VIRUS.

You will continue to circle the device to find out more information about all players. At the end of the round, the player will vote who goes to prison. If a double agent is chosen, the members win. If not, VIRUS wins.

Paid expansion packs will provide support for up to 9 players and unlock a special mode in which abilities are randomly assigned.
