Given the reality that many computer science teachers lack tools to assign and manage students in computer typing lessons such as "Computer Keyboard," "How to position your fingers to type," and "Practice using the keyboard," along with the limited time allocated for computer science lessons (often only one lesson per week), Typingtop was created to support teachers in solving these problems.

Typingtop.com provides 10-finger typing exercises and typing speed tests. Typingtop.com offers users many useful features and is the only online software that allows teachers to create 10-finger typing exercises and manage students' typing progress.

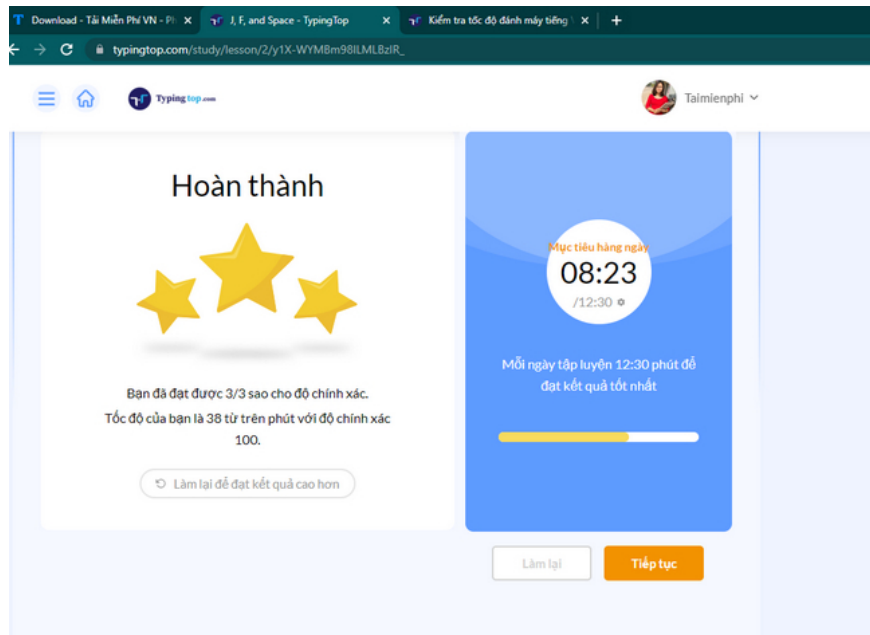

Typingtop offers typing exercises designed for different skill levels.

Typingtop features:

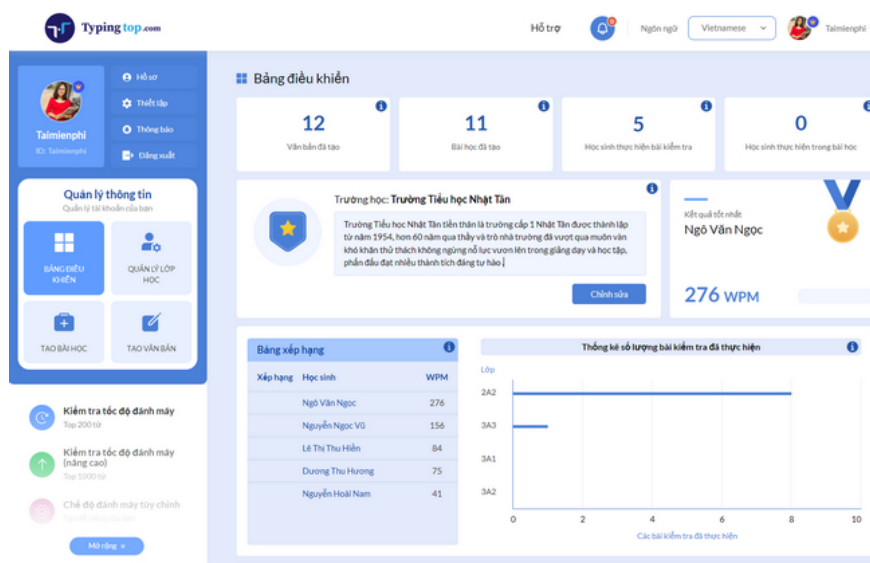

- Practice 10-finger typing, helping to increase typing speed.
- Check typing speed .
- Create an account and track your typing progress. -
- Set personal goals for your typing practice.
- Online, no installation required.

Especially noteworthy are features not found on any other typing practice platform

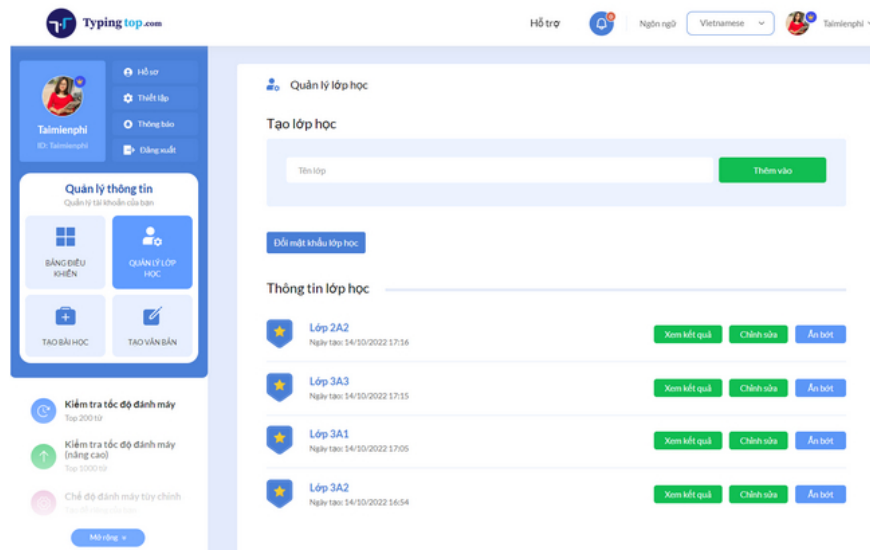

- : - Assign typing exercises to students.
- View typing results directly on the teacher's screen .
- Build a learning path for students to practice independently and track their practice history.
- Manage typing results by class.

2. Test your typing speed online with 10fastfingers

Access the 10fastfingers website via this link HERE.

The first website we'd like to introduce to you is 10fastfingers . With this online typing test application, you can easily check your current typing speed and text input level with just a few simple steps.

First, you need to access the website using the link we provided above. Next, type the words that appear on the web interface screen. The system will automatically track the time taken when you finish typing all the words displayed on the screen.

You can find detailed instructions on how to test your Vietnamese typing speed using 10fastfingers here.

3. Test your typing speed online with TypingTest

Access the TypingTest website via this link HERE.

Using TypingTest, you can actively choose the language for your typing test, including English, French, Dutch, etc. The online application also displays the time allotted for the test, allowing users to select the appropriate difficulty level to assess their typing ability.

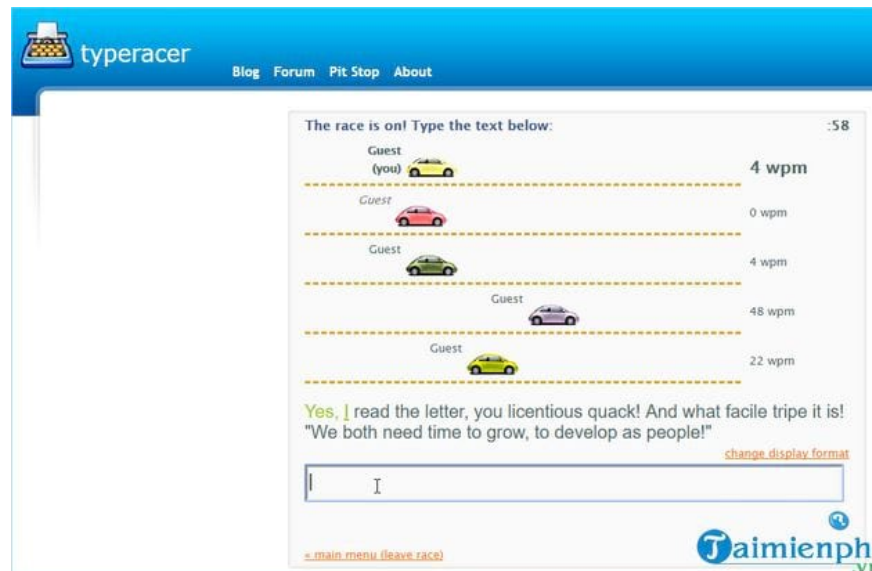

Please note that this online tool is not suitable for testing your Vietnamese typing speed. However, it is very suitable for testing your typing speed in foreign languages.

4. Test your typing speed online with Typeracer

Access the Typeracer website via this link HERE.

Typeracer is a fairly old website. Previously, this online tool only supported English, but recently it has added support for Vietnamese, making it quite convenient for Vietnamese users. However, this online tool will still primarily support checking in English and is a great tool for checking and practicing your typing speed with all ten fingers.

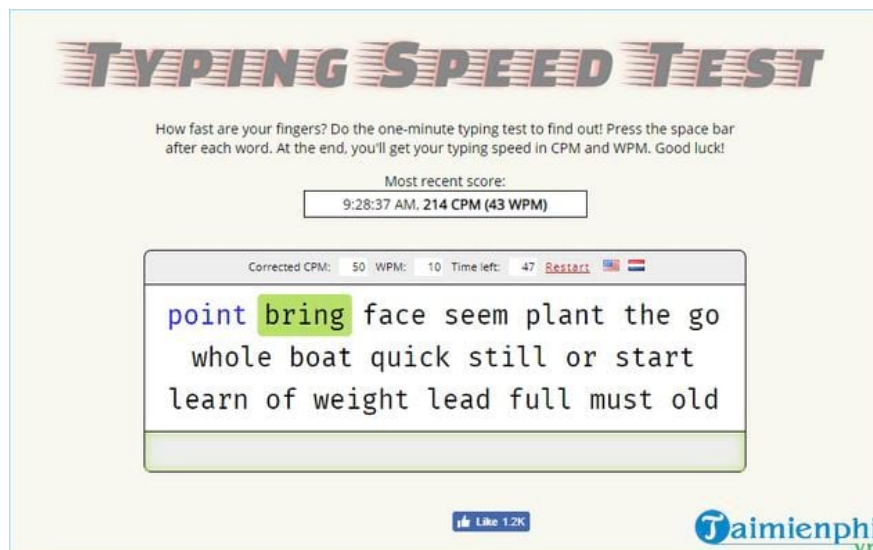

Besides testing your typing speed, users can also participate in the fun Typeracer game. This can be considered a tool that combines play and learning, making the application more engaging for users. When you play Typeracer, you'll be a car racer, and your speed will be determined by your typing speed. Therefore, to achieve high speeds, you need to concentrate intensely to type quickly and as accurately as possible. Isn't that great! Try this online tool to experience it for yourself.

5. Test your typing speed online with Typing Speed ??Test.

Access the Typing Speed ??Test website via this link HERE.

Typing Speed ??Test is also a great online tool for checking your typing speed. While the app doesn't currently support Vietnamese, the website has a very user-friendly interface and deserves its 4th place ranking on this list.

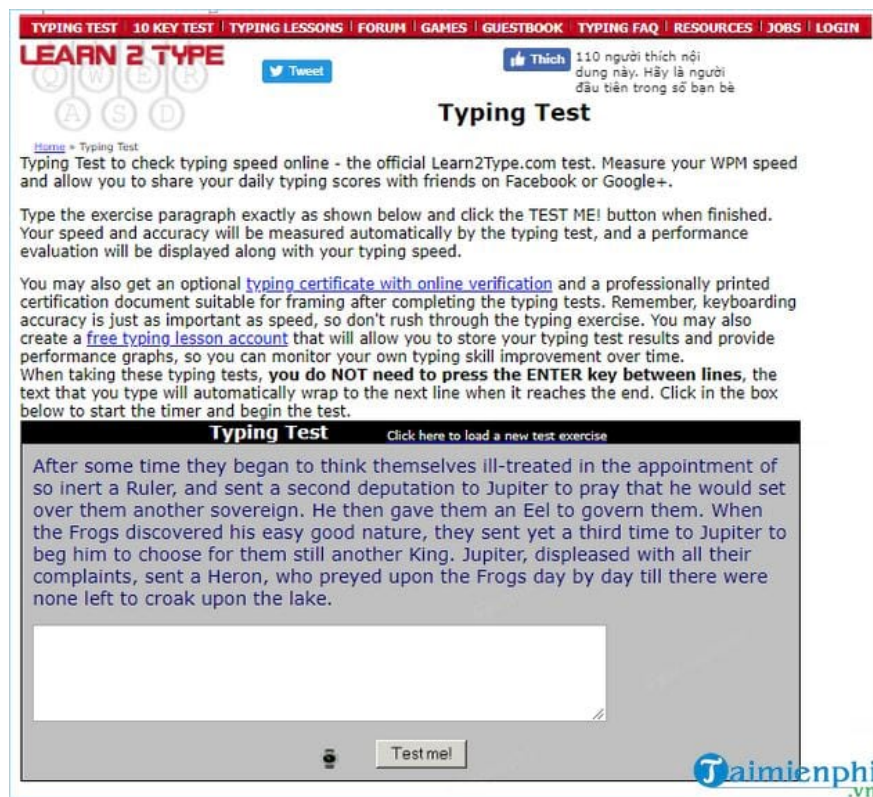

With its simple design and user-friendly interface, you just need to access the website and perform the test. After completing the process, you can share your results with friends on social media to compare.

6. Test your typing speed online with Learn 2 Type.

Access the Learn 2 Type website via this link HERE.

The final online application introduced in this article is Learn 2 Type – a very useful tool that helps users easily check their typing and document creation speed.

Using Learn 2 Type, you can see how many characters you've typed in the last minute. Then, press "Test me" to get the result of the test. The app also displays the number of characters you're typing incorrectly.

The downside of this application is that it currently lacks a Vietnamese interface for Vietnamese users, and the interface isn't very stable. However, if you simply need to check in English, this online application is still worth considering.

Above are the top 6 websites for free online typing speed tests that are currently popular among users. If you need to test your Vietnamese typing skills, typingtop is the perfect choice. For other languages ??to practice typing, you can choose one of the four online typing speed test applications introduced in this article. We hope you find the right one for you soon.
