

8 websites are horribly famous but many people never know

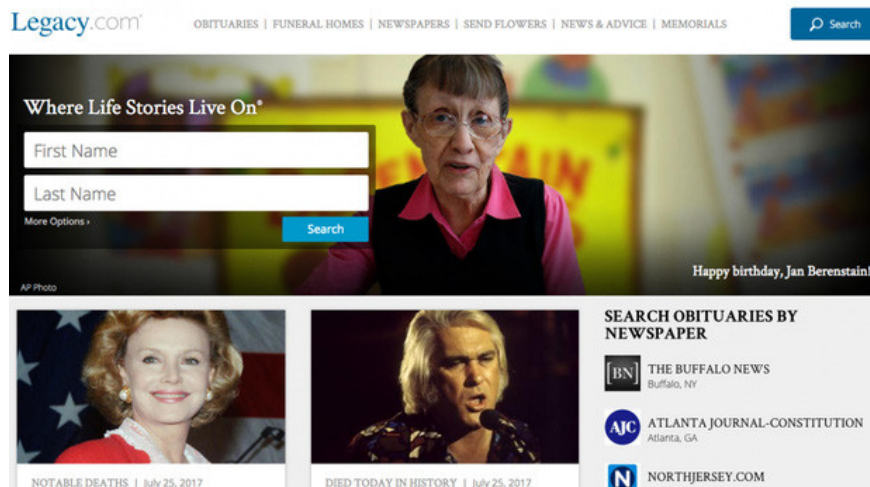

Every month these websites have tens of millions of visits.

1. 30 great websites to learn new things every day
2. 6 websites help office people relax extremely well after stressful and tired working hours
3. Access these 40 websites every day, you will learn a lot of useful things

Today, with the explosion of the Internet, we can easily access and discover a lot of good information in the country and in the world. Every website launched directs users to their own needs such as learning English, listening to music, reading news .

In addition to the above websites, here are 8 quite interesting and famous websites around the world. If you are looking to explore the world, you can visit and experience.

1. Legacy.com

Legacy.com is a website specializing in synthesizing famous eulogies from around the world. This site attracts about 25,082,076 visitors each month, which is higher than the USA Today page for several million visits. This can be seen, how attractive is this website?

2. Ranker.com

This is a web that synthesizes news and rankings in many different areas of life. With Ranker.com you can also give your own opinion about certain issues.

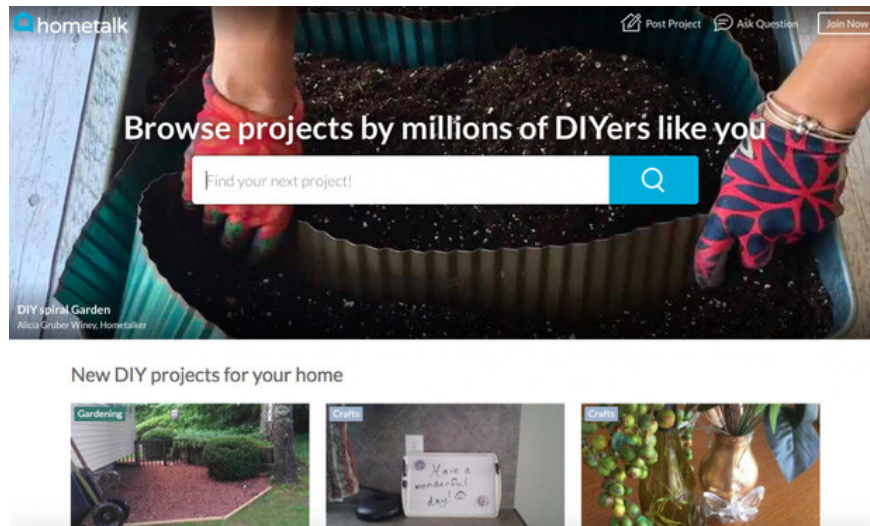

3. Twentytwowords.com

If you are feeling bored, want to find something to dispel that boredom, Twentytwowords.com will be a great choice. This is a web that specializes in life tips . pet.

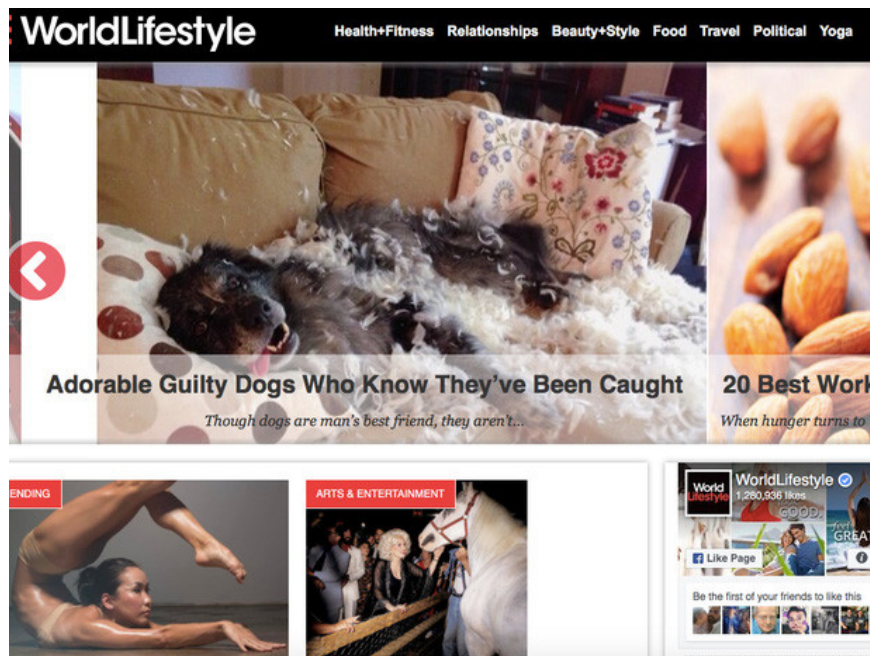

Every day, Twentytwowords.com attracts 16,100,179 views.

4. Hometalk.com

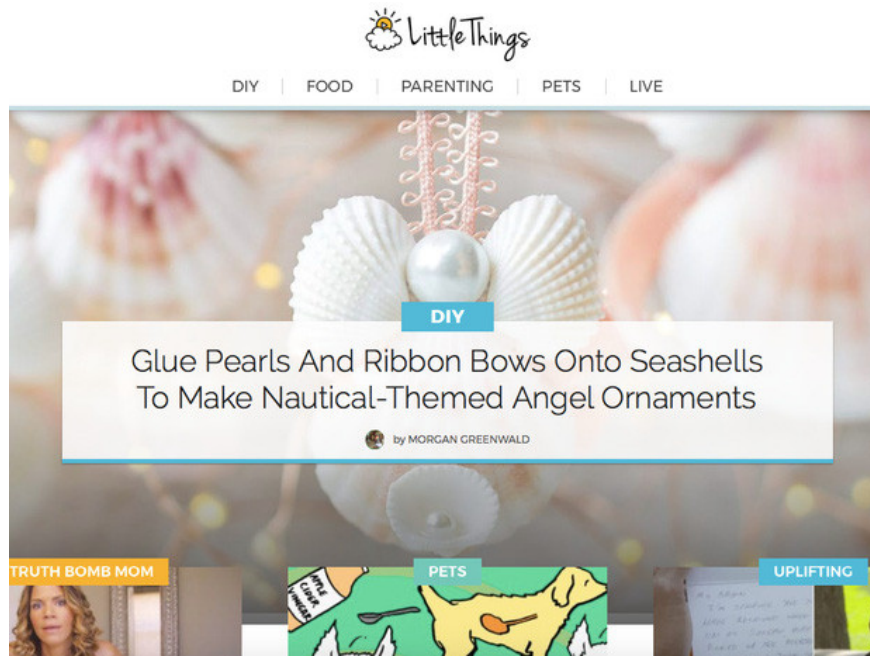

Hometalk.com is a website containing thousands of interesting videos that instruct users how to do something, like tips to make your home more beautiful. When you come to this website you can freely ask questions to find the help of users. Every month, Hometalk.com has 14,493,739 visitors.

5. WorldLifestyle.com

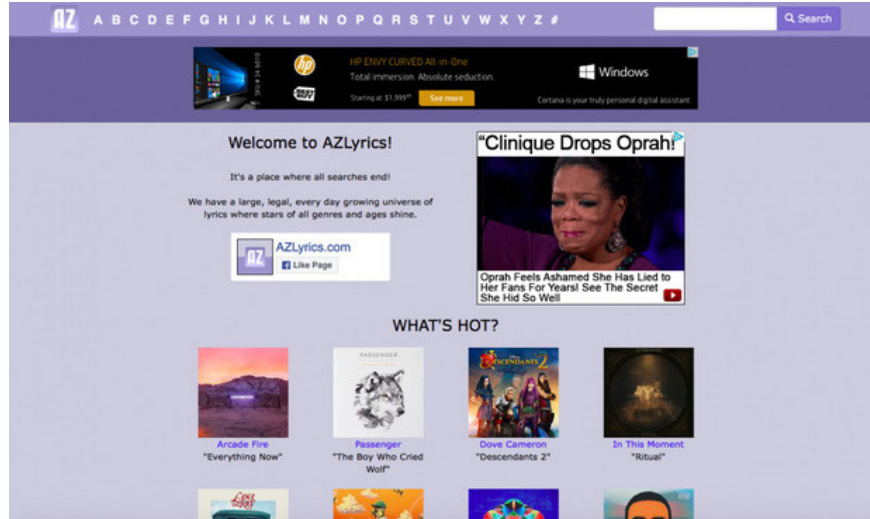

For those who care about health and love for beauty, WorldLifestyle.com is the website for you. Each month this site attracts 14,803,500 visitors, surpassing popular services like Hulu.

6. LittleThings.com

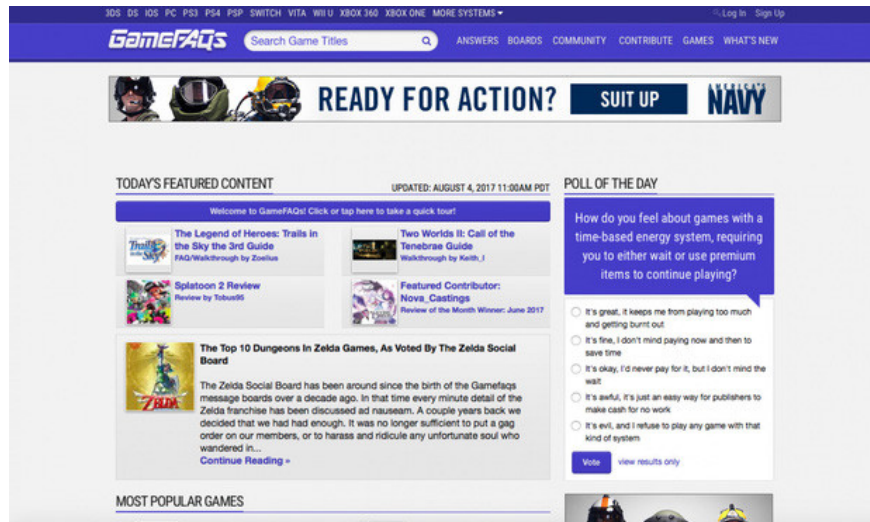

LittleThings.com is a source of content sharing related to how to do and solve many everyday problems in life. Each month, it attracts about 15 million views, a number that is not bad compared to the New York Times page with about 13 million visits per month.

7. AZLyrics.com

AZLyrics.com is a website that allows you to search for song data and every month there are more than 10 million visits to this site.

8. GameFAQs.com

For professional gamers, GameFAQs.com website is probably too familiar. This website is considered by many to be a professional reddit for those who only talk about games. Each month GameFAQs.com attracts about 10 million users.

You finished reading the article "8 websites are horribly famous but many people never know" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.