

9 most scary places in the world without a shadow people live

These are places that have been abandoned for a long time, even where there are supposed to be haunted by no one living. Even the most brave people don't dare to go to these locations.

These are places that have been abandoned for a long time, even where there are supposed to be haunted by no one living. Even the most brave people don't dare to go to these locations.

Do you want to try setting foot in these locations?

1. Centralia, Pennsylvania

This is really a bustling town with 5000 people. Until 1962, a coal mine burned underground, creating a terrible fire. Every effort to extinguish the fire was unsuccessful. From cracks, heat and toxic smoke of the underground fire, the lives of people here are threatened. People gradually moved to other places to live. This "spooky" fire continues to burn until today and it will burn for about 250 years.

2. Takakanonuma Amusement Park

This park is located in the suburb of Hobara in Japan. Very few people know about this park, you can't even find it on a Japanese map. It almost never existed. This park was opened twice but only for a short time and closed. The reason is that there are some strange inexplicable deaths that happened here. After a long time of abandonment, all the games in the park were rotted, along with the thick fog that always covered, making it extremely scary.

3. Pripyat, Ukraine

Chernobyl's famous nuclear disaster caused nearly 50,000 people to live in Pripyat town to make it one of the terrifying ghost towns in the world. The old furniture, amusement parks, abandoned parks make the town extremely devastating.

4. Island the doll

Thousands of ragged old dolls were hung everywhere on a small island in southern Mexico. Along with that are creepy stories, rumors about demons here make the island extremely scary. A girl drowned in the forest was discovered by the caregiver of this area. Besides, he also discovered a doll thought of her and hung it on the tree to comfort her soul. From there, he collected many dolls and hung them on the tree. In 2001, the island's caretaker died and no one has dared to go there since.

5. The body farm

The body farm in Knoxville, USA. The area is also known as the " corpse farm " because it is filled with decomposing animal corpses at different times. They are lined up, marked for criminal scientists to study and reproduce many cases. No one has the courage to step into this world's most horrifying farm except researchers.

6. The Ridges in Ohio

This is considered one of the 13 scariest haunted places in the world voted by the British Psychological Research Association.

The Ridges in Ohio State are an old abandoned hospital. There are many scary stories about haunting in this place that make the listener not afraid. The most prominent is the story of the body of a missing woman found in a room of this abandoned hospital. When discovered, her clothes were neatly placed next to the decomposed corpse, forming stains on the floor. Even that stain still exists today and the ghost of the woman still lingers in the room.

7. Lom Bazaar, Togo

A large number of skulls of all animals are stored here. It was more horrible when they had the same flesh and skin with an extremely scary shape. No matter how brave and brave, no one would come to Lom Bazaar.

8. Helltown, Ohio

Before being planned by the government as a national amusement park, it was an old town with a dense population. When the project failed, this land was abandoned. The whole town was abandoned, creating a "cold and spine" setting.

9. Waverly Hill Sanatorium

This is a hospital for treating people with mental illness in Kentucky. In about 50 activities there were about 65,000 patients died here. Most people who have come to Waverly Hill Sanatorium have seen ghosts wandering around, making it an obsession for many people.

You finished reading the article "9 most scary places in the world without a shadow people live" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.