

9 things Jack Ma sent to his son made us ponder

Jack Ma is admired by many people and is known for his different perspectives on work as well as in teaching children.

1. All things about Jack Ma - Billionaire admires the whole world
2. "If you want to live simply, don't be a leader.": Lesson for those who are leaders from Jack Ma
3. Jack Ma's classic sayings will change your life

Jack Ma is admired by many people and is known for "different" views in his work and in teaching children.

Most of us know the rich stories of billionaire Jack Ma. He was from an ordinary English teacher, but he tried his best to explore and learn to become a billionaire, a technology entrepreneur known and admired by the world. In addition, he is a great father in educating children.

Recently he wrote a letter to his only son, Jerry Ma. With only 9 things but it contains in it the emotions, life lessons that he himself has experienced. This letter, after being published, has touched millions of Chinese people, and it is certain that many of us will find our own enlightenment through it.

My son: I write this "memo" based on 3 principles.

1. The life of a happy person is impermanent, no one can know how long he can live, there are some things that should be said sooner.
2. I am your father, if I do not tell you, there will be no one else to talk to you.
3. The notes in this memorandum, which are experiences that we have experienced through suffering, can be obtained. It can help adults do not need to take too much time to detour.

Here are the things that live in life, I have to remember very carefully:

1. People who are not good with children, do not pay too much attention to people. During my life, no one is supposed to be good to me, except me and my mother. For those who treat you well, you must respect, thank you.
2. No one is irreplaceable, nothing is required. Looking through this, even if you lose all your favorite things in the world, I will understand that it is nothing big!

3. Life is very short. Today you may still be wasting your life but tomorrow, you may have seen that precious thing leave you.

Therefore, the sooner I respect my life, the more I will enjoy the days of life. Compared to the expectation of long life, long life, it is better that you soon enjoy a truly complete life.

4. Love is just this kind of feeling and feeling, over time, the mood will change. If the person I think I love the most is away from me, wait patiently for a bit, so that the heart gradually settles down, time will make the pain in my heart.

Don't be too troubled by the beauty of love, don't overdo the suffering when you fall in love.

5. Although many people do not have much education, they still succeed, but that does not mean that they do not need to study, but they can succeed.

The knowledge I have learned is the weapon I have. People can get their hands on a career, but they can't help but have weapons to make a career, remember well!

6. I bought lottery for 26 years but never won in the 3rd prize. This proves that people want to succeed, they need to make the best effort. Nothing in this world is free.

7. I do not require you to take care of me, keep me alive for half the life. That means, I don't raise the other half of my life.

When you grow up to the point where you can become independent, your responsibility has ended. From now on, whether you are sitting in a bus or sitting in a Mercedes, you can eat a lot of seafood or rice soup, you must take care of yourself.

8. You can ask yourself to keep your trust but cannot ask others to keep your faith. I can ask myself to be good to others but I can't expect people to be nice to me.

How you treat others doesn't mean people will treat you like that. If you don't see this point, it will only bring you unnecessary troubles.

9. Relatives are fate only 1 time. No matter how long we and I are together, in this life, we must respect our moment together. The next life, whether we love each other or not, it is unlikely we could meet again.

You finished reading the article "9 things Jack Ma sent to his son made us ponder" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.