[Infographic] E-commerce spread globally

Today, e-commerce is strongly developed by the speed of Internet usage along with many modern technologies.

Today, e-commerce is strongly developed by the speed of Internet usage along with many modern technologies.

People increasingly prefer trading in this form because of the advantages that it brings. The biggest benefit that e-commerce offers is the cost savings and facilitation of the transaction parties. It allows businesses to save travel costs, meeting time while shopping.

For consumers, they can sit at home to order, buy a variety of goods and services quickly. The infographic below introduces the development of e-commerce in many countries around the world.

You finished reading the article "[Infographic] E-commerce spread globally" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

© 2019 TipsMake.com