What is a nebulizer?

A nebulizer, also called a humidifier, creates a humidifier, a humidifier . is a device used to replenish humidity in a room or the entire house by creating thin, gentle, spreading mists. throughout space.

This machine is also particularly effective in minimizing dryness, cracking, stuffing, etc. when the weather is dry or hot or using air conditioning for a long time.

When to use a nebulizer?

Too high or too low humidity is not good for health, sometimes it aggravates respiratory diseases as well as some interior furniture damage.

Whenever you see dew condensation, moisture on the glass or moldy smell . it can be a warning sign that you should use a humidifier.

If you are more careful, you can use a moisture meter, a moisture meter to accurately determine the humidity in the air and make decisions.

In addition, some of the signs below will help you identify the humidity too low:

1. Appearance of dry eyes, dry skin.
2. The lips are dry and cracked.
3. Cough, unusual sore throat.
4. Furniture in the family has a cracked phenomenon.
5. Electrostatic phenomenon.

In addition to the air-conditioned rooms, you should also equip a nebulizer to limit dry skin.

Notes when choosing to buy a nebulizer

1. Select the device capacity that matches the room area

The area of the room is closely related to the volume of the nebulizer. Therefore, when choosing to buy this device, you first need to determine the area where you want to use the machine is. This will help you get the right machine to promote all efficiency as well as avoid causing waste when buying a machine that is too big or too small compared to the room.

2. Moisture generation capacity

The moisture generation capacity of the machine is also a quite important factor that you should care about. Normally, a nebulizer operates at a capacity of about 30W, giving a moisture flow of 200-300ml / h.

Based on the actual needs, you can choose the best level of power choice.

3. Noise level of the machine

Certainly, a machine that works smoothly and gently makes no noise will be the desire of many people. Make sure the product you choose works with the noise level that is allowed. Noise level below 35dB will be most suitable for you.

4. Select brand

Don't be too hungry for cheap frost sprayers with unclear origins. Please choose a product from reputable brands to ensure quality as well as durability.

On the market today, most of the nebulizer products are sourced from European countries such as Germany, Switzerland or Italy. These are all cradles that make up a quality nebulizer so you can safely use it.
