

A Windows Phone 7.8 update is available for Nokia Lumia phones

Windows Phone 7.8 is the last major update for Windows Phone 7, which is expected to launch early next year. However, the official Windows Phone 7.8 updates for Nokia Lumia phones suddenly appeared.

Windows Phone 7.8 is the last major update for Windows Phone 7, which is expected to launch early next year. However, the official Windows Phone 7.8 updates for Nokia Lumia phones suddenly appeared.

Users can update to the latest Windows Phone version via the Navifirm firmware download. Currently all of Nokia's early Lumia phones, including Lumia 900, 800, 710 and 610, and the newly launched Lumia 510 phone, can update Windows Phone 7.8.

Windows Phone 7.8 has some noticeable improvements, including the ability to edit the panels on the main screen, select backgrounds from Bing, child safety keys and many new background colors. In addition, Nokia also has some additions to its firmware, including the ability to share files via Bluetooth (with no DRM locked conditions), Contacts Transfer apps, Contacts Share, Ringtone Maker, and two additions to cameras are Cinemagraph and Lenses.

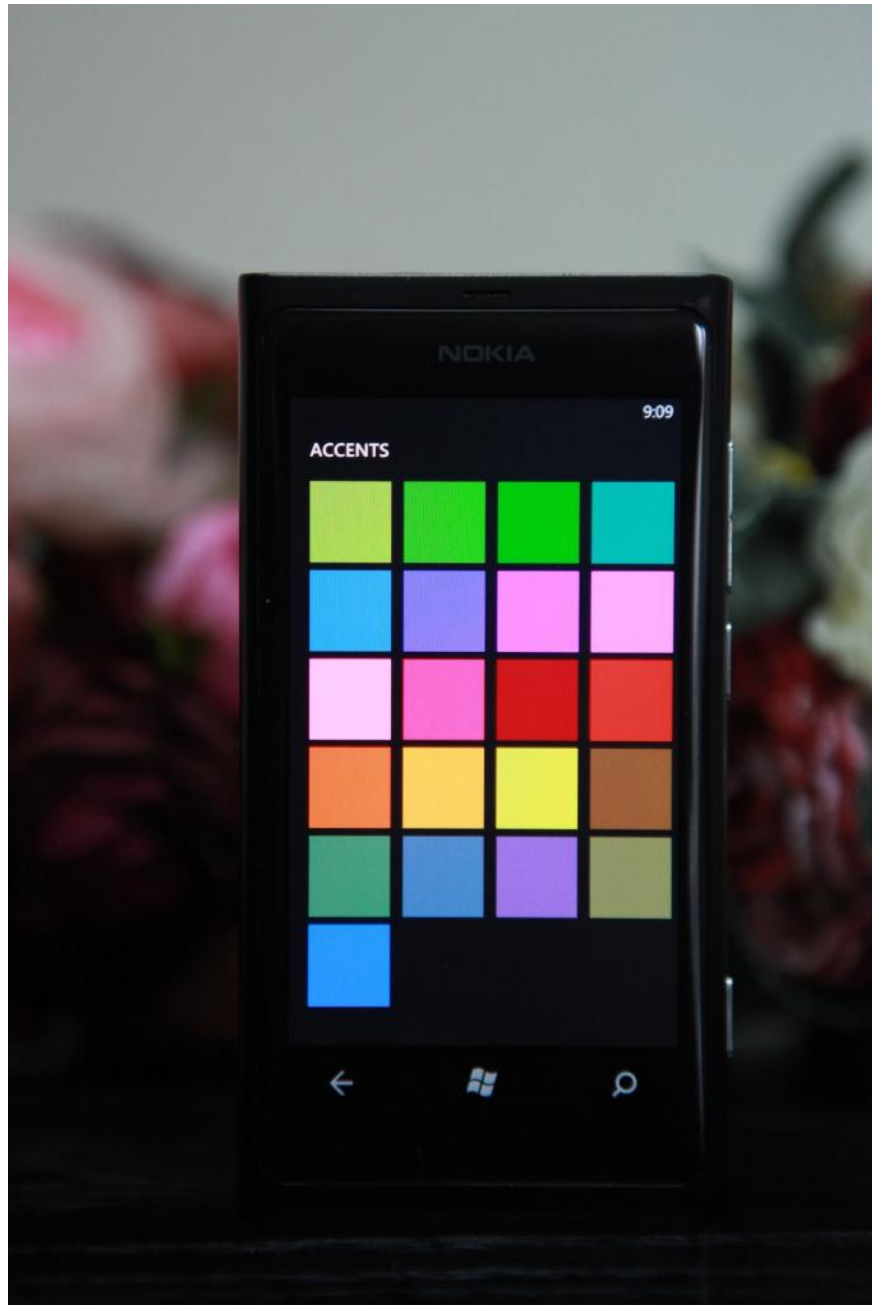

Here are some Lumia 800 phone images after being upgraded Windows Phone 7.8.

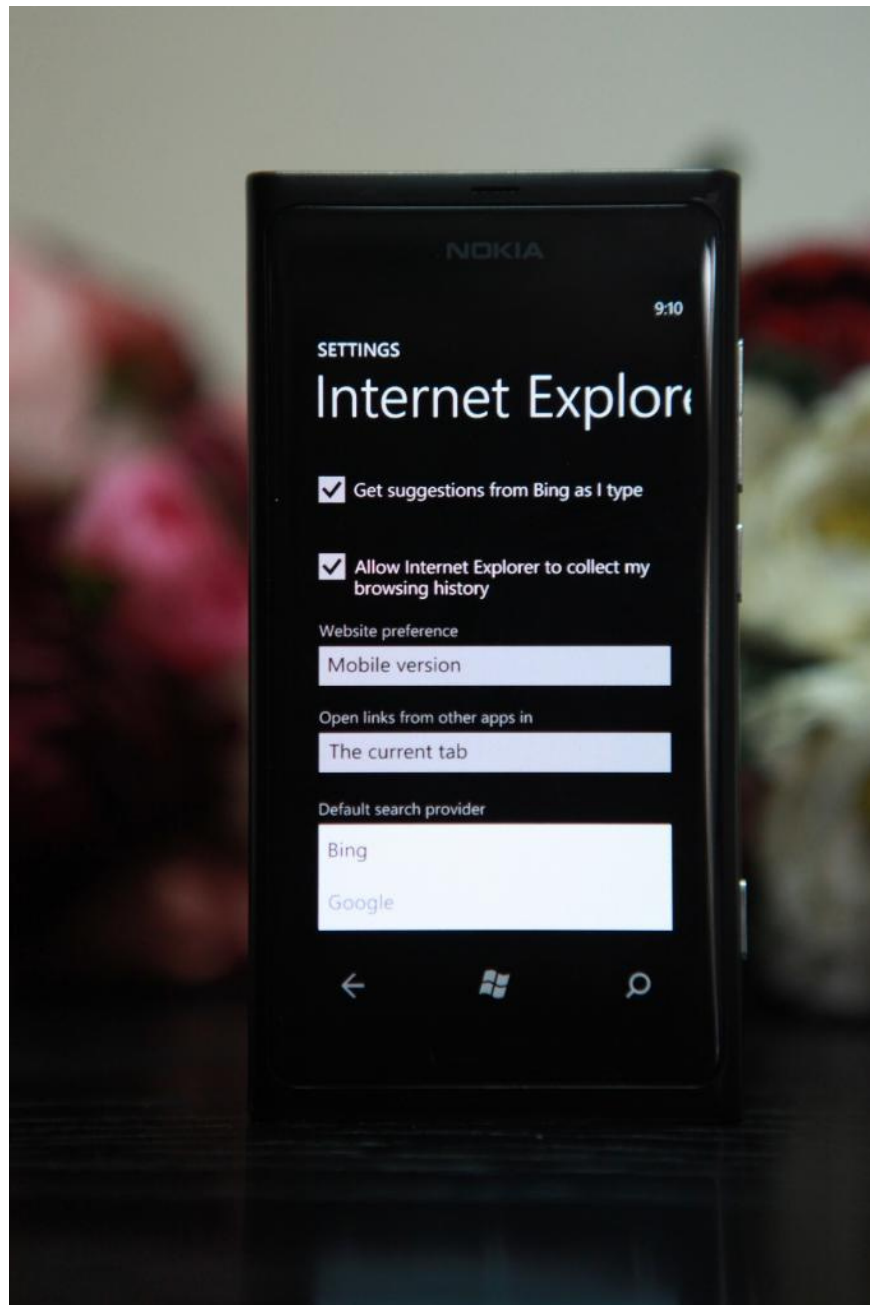

Information about the new version

Cells can be resized, allowing the main screen to display more applications

There are more than 20 new background colors in Windows Phone 7.8

Google is added as a default search service in Internet Explorer

You finished reading the article "A Windows Phone 7.8 update is available for Nokia Lumia phones" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.