

Admire Mate 20 RS Porsche Design, Huawei's high-end smartphones cost up to 50 million

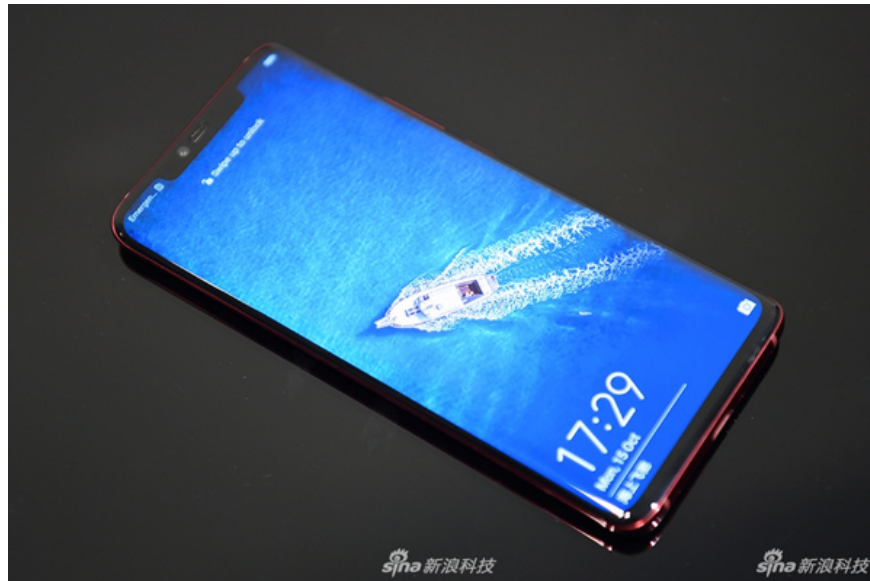

At the event in London, Huawei introduced the Mate 20 and Mate 20 Pro duo, Mate 20X and Mate 20 RS, the company's high-end smartphone.

At the event in London, Huawei introduced the Mate 20 and Mate 20 Pro duo, Mate 20X and Mate 20 RS, the company's high-end smartphone.

Huawei Mate 20 RS is a Pro 20 Pro but has been changed in design. Specifically, the back of the Mate 20 RS is made of leather and decorated with a black glass strip in the middle. The 3-camera cluster is flat with the back, Porsche Design logo and Huawei's logo beautifully blended with the glass strip to give an impressive highlight.

The Mate 20 RS is equipped with a fingerprint sensor in the display and 3D face detection technology. The Mate 20 RS uses Kirin 980 with 7nm process, 8GB of RAM, 256GB internal memory or 512GB.

The Mate 20 RS is priced at a high price of 1695 EUR (about 50 million VND) for a 256GB version and 2095 EUR (56.6 million VND) for a 512GB version. Not too surprising with a product labeled Porsche Design.

Mate 20 RS Porsche Design is designed with two colors, Black and Red. Huawei has yet to announce the date for this smartphone reservation but will start shipping it to customers from November 16.

See more:

1. Stunned with iPhone Xs for nearly 70 billion VND made of meteors
2. Invite to admire the concept model Sony Xperia Slide, smartphone with two impressive sliding screens
3. Which smartphone has the fastest charging speed today?

You finished reading the article "Admire Mate 20 RS Porsche Design, Huawei's high-end smartphones cost up to 50 million" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.