Windows 10 users still prefer to download applications from Microsoft Store that will be happy to hear that one of the very popular software is Photoshop Elements already available on this online application store.

Adobe has just launched Photoshop Elements 2019 on Microsoft stores and, more amazing, they offer a suite of discounted rates.

Photoshop Elements is not too new for those who regularly monitor products on the Microsoft Store because its first version has been posted here since 2016. But Adobe is still one of many companies that support Microsoft Store and with This new release, their software will come to many users who have updated to Windows 10.

Photoshop Elements 2019 is sold on the Store at the current price of only $ 99.99. If you want to install this application from Store, at least your computer must run Windows 10 Fall Creators Update. This is not a big requirement because most users have already used version April 2018 Update.

Also note is the version of Creators Update, released before the Fall Creators Update version, no longer receive support for Home and Pro versions.
