

Adobe released the Adobe Premiere Rush CC video editing application for Android

Adobe has officially released the Premiere Rush CC (Ru) video editing tool for Android, after a release time for iOS, macOS and Windows.

Adobe has officially released the Premiere Rush CC (Ru) video editing tool for Android, after a release time for iOS, macOS and Windows.

Premiere Rush CC was first introduced by Adobe last year and is an extremely useful tool for YouTuber or vlogger to edit video anytime, anywhere, quickly and flexibly on any device next to professional and complex software like Premiere Pro.

Premiere Rush CC is shortened from Premiere Pro and Audition video / audio editing tools on a computer, so it is considered an all-in-one video editing tool.

Adobe Premiere Rush CC for Android is currently only available for devices with strong configurations including Galaxy S9 / S10, Google Pixel 2 / Pixel 3 and OnePlus 6T.

Adobe Premiere Rush CC is released for free. However, the free version only allows users to publish 3 projects. For full functionality, users can choose Creative Cloud packages for $ 9.99 / month or $ 19.99 / month (for groups) and $ 29.99 / month (for businesses).

You finished reading the article "Adobe released the Adobe Premiere Rush CC video editing application for Android" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.