

Apple accidentally confirmed that it would not have the iPhone 9, instead a new iPhone SE would be launched iPhone SE will be available in 3 colors: white, black and red.

Apple is about to launch a new 4.7-inch iPhone, which is said to be the successor to the 2016 iPhone SE. Previous reports have suggested that Apple will name the iPhone 9. iPhone However In a recent revelation, Apple has confirmed that there will be no iPhone 9.

A Belkin screen protector, now available online on the Apple Store, lists a list of devices including iPhone SE / 8/7. And as we all know, iPhone 8 and iPhone 7 have the same 4.7 inch screen size.

Therefore, this new iPhone SE has the same screen size, that is, 4.7 inches. While the 2016 iPhone SE has a screen size of 4 inches. This new iPhone SE 2020 change is consistent with previous reports, that it has the same exterior design as the iPhone 8.

Besides, Belkin screen stickers are also available in a larger size, suitable for 5.5 inch screens of iPhone 7 Plus and 8 Plus. However, this product is not listed with iPhone SE. From that, it can be speculated that there will not be an iPhone SE Plus (or iPhone 9 Plus) as previously rumored.

The 9to5mac report further revealed that the iPhone SE will come in three colors when launched, white, black and red. There will be 3 versions with 64GB, 128GB and 256GB storage capacities. And the launch date is very close, maybe tomorrow.
