

Apple laptop and obstacles with users

A series of iStore specializing in providing Apple products were established with the expansion of users, Apple products, especially Apple computers are having many advantages compared to other brand products of the same type.

A series of iStore specializing in providing Apple products were established with the expansion of users, Apple products, especially Apple computers are having many advantages compared to other brand products of the same type.

In early 2008, Apple cooperated with official distributor FPT to open a series of iStore specialized in Apple products. When the fourth iStore was launched with the ultra-thin MacBook Air notebook coming to Vietnam, stores like iStore also appeared or were under construction.

According to Mr. Ly Trung Dung, Deputy Director of FPT Distribution Company, in 2008, Apple will open about three more iStore nationwide to provide a rich source of genuine products with full warranty for consumers. . Unlike previous years, Apple computers are no longer considered a line for graphic designers, but amateur users have also begun to pay attention and use them by their sleek, luxurious and partly due to the reputation of this 'apple' company.

For desktop computers, amateur users are still shy. But for Apple laptops, this object feels like it can be used and used. Ms. H. Phuong, PR staff, is using MacBook Pro for designers, saying that she has liked Apple products for a long time. When the company introduced the MacBook Pro last year, she bought it immediately. Also a follower of Apple like Ms. Phuong, Ms. T. Hien also plans to buy the device this year although the position of the office staff is currently redone without using such a high-configuration and expensive machine.

However, when used, amateur users will encounter a problem because the interface and features of Apple machines are too different from normal computers although Apple has allowed to use both Windows and Mac operating systems.

Ms. H. Phuong also acknowledged that she has not used proficiently like her computers before. Once the demand for Apple laptops in Vietnam will increase in the future, according to its forecasts and distributors, in addition to ensuring enough goods for consumers, consulting non-specialized users Apple machines are essential, contributing to popularizing Apple machines to more users.

You finished reading the article "Apple laptop and obstacles with users" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.