Ariston water heater is the brand of which country?

Ariston is a famous brand of Italy, founded in 1960. This is the first hot water heater imported into Vietnam market. After more than 30 years of expanding the market in Vietnam, Ariston water heater brand has received extremely positive feedback from customers.

Ariston heater is designed in Italian style so beautiful design, applied modern technology from Europe and polished in every detail should be integrated with many advantages: 100% titanium burning bar, There is an easy-to-adjust thermostat mechanical knob, safety control circuit, ECO EVO mode to help save electricity, promising the best products for consumers.

Evaluate the features of Ariston heater

Ariston water heater uses super durable 100% Titanium bar

Most of the hot and cold bottles on the market mainly use stainless steel rods so their durability is less, and they last longer. But Ariston water heater uses 100% copper burning bar and 100% Titanium burning bar, so it has fast heating effect, durable use with time and extremely good anti-fouling.

100% Titanium burning bar has the advantage of absolute corrosion resistance. In addition, Ariston heater is also designed with continuous circuit to automatically check all parameters of the machine, ensuring maximum safety for users.

There are many levels of hot water temperature adjustment

All Ariston water heaters are equipped with a knob to adjust the hot water temperature. Depending on the intended use, users can choose the desired heating temperature.

Application of ECO EVO technology to save electricity

The body of the hot water heater is designed with a thick thermal insulation layer for the ability to hold hot water longer for a long time. In addition, the machine also applies the European standard EVE ECO EVO technology to memorize usage habits, automatically calculate the most suitable hot water and temperature, saving up to 14% and meeting 5-star standard energy saving.

Automatically disconnect power and automatically heat water

When you select the required water temperature, the kettle automatically warms the water until it reaches the set temperature. When the water in the jar is lower than the set temperature, the heater will automatically warm up to help the user always have hot water to use. This function helps to reduce power consumption and bring comfort to users.
