

Asus laptop for students costs 7.4 million

Asus X401 has a slim front design, light weight, and many colors to choose from with an attractive price for students.

Asus X401 has a slim front design, light weight, and many colors to choose from with an attractive price for students.

Asus X401.

Newly sold in the US market a few days ago, but two days later, Asus announced that this product will be available in Vietnam market in July to cater for the shopping season as well as the upcoming school year. begin. Despite being in the low-cost line, this model is equipped with some quite advanced features. Typically, Instant On helps the device to start from sleep mode in just 2 seconds, maintaining standby status for 2 weeks and automatically backing up data when the battery is below 5%.

Asus also brings the X401 cooling technology like the IceCool Design gaming laptop, and it is confirmed by the company that the temperature of the palm rest is always lower than the body temperature. There is also SonicMaster Lite speaker system and Splendid Technology imaging technology.

X401 with lightweight design.

The X401 also has a slim front-end design like the Asus ultrabook model recently. It weighs 1.86 kg, which is 2 to 2.2 kg lighter than the average of 14-inch laptops on the market. The X401 has 4 colors to choose from: dark green (the pattern of square lines), bright white (vignette pattern), light green lemon and pink youthful.

Model sold in Vietnam equipped with configuration including Intel Celeron B820 processor, 2 GB RAM, 500 GB hard drive with 5400 rpm, Intel HD Graphics 3000 graphics chip, 6 cell battery, Wi-Fi standard n, with standard USB 3.0 port.

Asus X401 will be available in the domestic market this month for $ 7.4 million.

You finished reading the article "Asus laptop for students costs 7.4 million" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.