Asus Rog - A brand of hardware products for PC gamers (founded by Asus in 2006) recently officially launched a new gaming laptop named ROG G750.

ROG G750 is equipped with GTX 765M graphics card - One of 4 versions of the GeForce GTX 700M series that Nvidia launched a long time ago. Product images show that this is a high-end laptop with a scratched aluminum body.

Inside the headphone, it also added an amplifier to provide in-game audio experience and better music listening for users.

ROG G750 is equipped with the latest Haswell processor chip from Intel (Core i7). The keyboard with the backlight of the machine has cluster-friendly arrow keys for gamers. The device's touchpad has a wide surface and multi-touch support. Other information about the product has not been revealed by Asus Rog.
