

Bad stories and jokes because of the 'Adult Movie' virus

Just plug the USB into the computer to open the information for customers to see, Mr. Nguyen Van Hoang suddenly blushed with his ears because of the folder 'Movie nguoi lon'

Just plug the USB into the device to open the information for customers to see, Mr. Nguyen Van Hoang HTV company staff in Ho Chi Minh City suddenly blushed because the folder 'Movie loner' does not know where to appear right before his eyes.

He apologized to the partner and corrected that he did not touch this movie. Fortunately, this visitor has met through this virus so it is difficult for him.

Ms. Bich Thuy, an accountant also met a similar situation. As always, she plugged her USB into the computer and opened the data files to continue the unfinished work. Today she suddenly found a strange folder " Movie nguoi lon ". Thuy was startled, staring at the folder to see if it really existed or if she looked wrong.

I don't know where to go but I'm afraid that people will see it, so I press delete to quickly delete the folder. The result was the same, she nearly cried when she turned to copy the files to be used in the computer and hide the USB to fear anyone could see, only the country "found the land to get down".

But still not finished, Thuy had to whisper to his friends in the same room, knowing his computer was infected with the virus.

According to computer experts, " Movie " is a type of internal virus that does not harm computers. But the purpose of its creator is real, with the creation of a series of " movie people " folders in any infected device, many people have "distorted their faces" because of it.

Many lovers are also misunderstood by each other because of this directory. Mr. Nam Thang is also in a bad situation because of " Adult Movie ". That day, he copied the USB using the virus infected by his friend without knowing. Time to go back to Thang for his girlfriend to borrow USB. Woe, she just saw that weird folder was angry, explaining why she didn't understand. He had to turn on the computer and use the updated anti-virus program to wipe those folders, she was convinced.

Sometimes the " movie can " also caused many victims to laugh at the situations it created.

Student Vo Van Hau of Ho Chi Minh City University of Technical Education is "uncovering" a female classmate. He copied some files of e-books that could be found online for her to borrow, but unexpectedly, the USB virus had this evil virus. Hau said: " She was angry, I kept following the explanation forever, I had to ask all the friends to help me. But also because of this incident, I and her had a chance to get closer together . "

Ms. Hoa, who lives in Thu Duc, has a son who is in the 7th grade, said: " A little bit more, I have beaten you unjustly. " She also bought her a USB device to help her learn more computers and save her lessons. That day, when I opened my computer, I saw a folder called "Movie". The raging flare up, she called to snatch the boy who had just come home from school and was about to go swimming to ask for guilt. Fortunately, her husband just came home from work. "The commune worked on IT, so it took a few steps to check that it was a virus. The whole family laughed, and the son was a bit dead ," she said, smiling.

Virus "Movie movie" creates fake folders named "movie people" on the computer.

If the file extension is displayed, users will see these directories will have the .exe extension. This sign indicates that this is a virus because the directory never has an extension.

The full name of this virus according to software vendor NOD 32 is: Hide.I Trojan

The most up-to-date version of current antivirus software can kill this virus.
