

Beat the first laptop box of Google

Google has unveiled the first laptop made by the manufacturer itself. The Google Cr-48 runs Chrome OS on a 12-inch screen and Intel's Atom processor.

Google has unveiled the first laptop made by the manufacturer itself. The Google Cr-48 runs Chrome OS on a 12-inch screen and Intel's Atom processor.

Let's explore Google's first laptop:

The container is printed with many drawings.

Open.

The message inside the advertising box for Intel processors.

The bottom of the erection box.

In the hands of Google Cr-48.

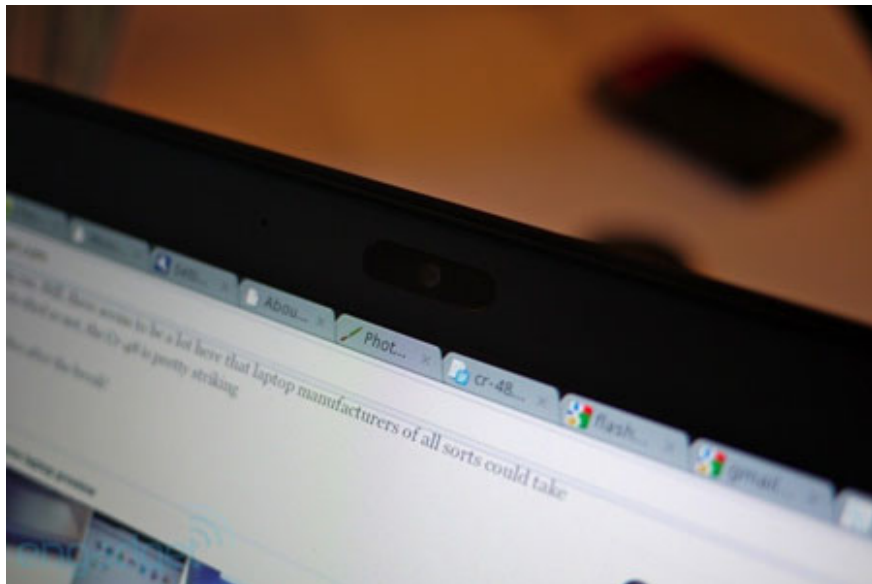

Chat webcam on laptop.

Touchpad.

The right side of the laptop has a power plug and memory card reader slot.

Webcam.

The left edge is arranged with multiple plug ports.

Close up of laptop top.

Underneath.

You finished reading the article "Beat the first laptop box of Google" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.