

Beautiful cracked art wall made from 15,000 Origami paper birds

A large number of small details are the Origami paper bird, an art piece of wall painting that becomes magical throughout a street corner, which is interesting for pedestrians.

A large number of small details are the Origami paper bird , an art piece of wall painting that becomes magical throughout a street corner, which is interesting for pedestrians.

Accordingly, this art mural is made right on the wall of a high-rise building designed by French urban artist Mademoiselle Maurice.

15,000 chi, Origami paper is folded manually with different colors which are relatively bright and eye-catching like gold, pink, orange, blue, glowing green .

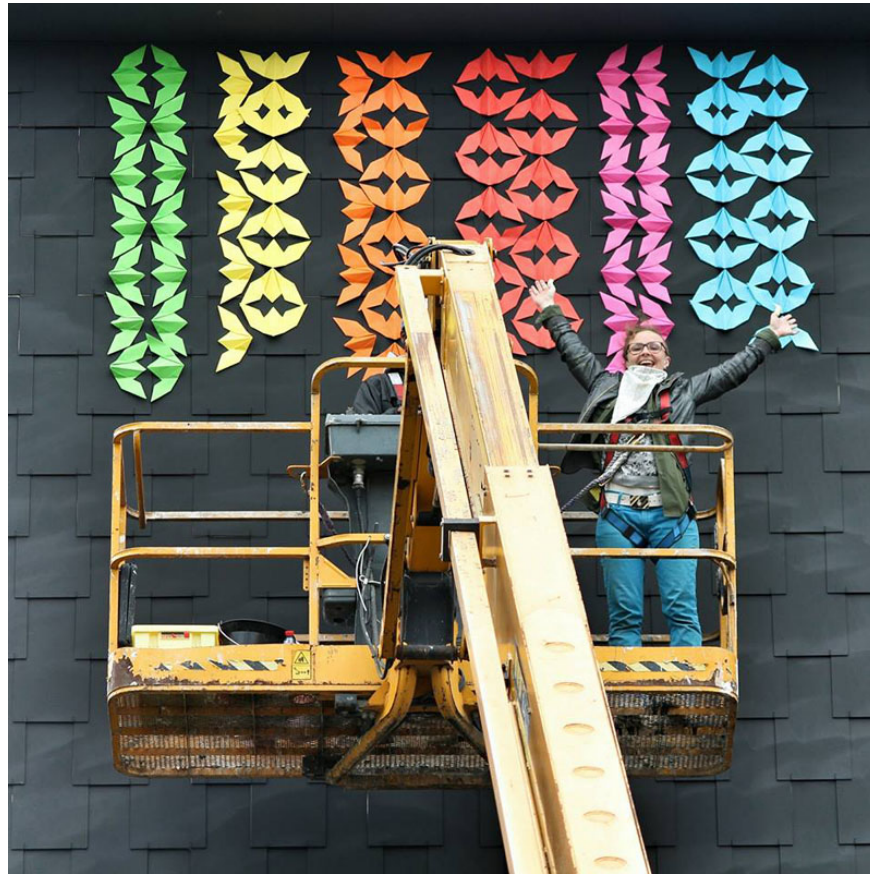

After that, thousands of these birds were arranged on black high-rise walls with many unique activities, large areas such as falling star strips, arrows, laser circles .

The blocks are connected and stretched throughout the high-rise walls from top to bottom, left to right. And most importantly, the Origami paper bird mural makes the whole of the black high-rise building become more gorgeous than ever.

Looking from above, it can be said that this art work is also outstanding compared to the rest of the architectural blocks.

And more than ever, to get this fancy product, French urban artist Mademoiselle Maurice has to work continuously with 15,000 origami paper birds on cranes that last for months.

Huynh Dung (According to Contemporist)

You finished reading the article "Beautiful cracked art wall made from 15,000 Origami paper birds" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.