

BlackBerry users still account for higher rates than Windows Phone in the UK

According to Kantar's statistics, from March 2014, next to Toronto, home of BlackBerry, in the UK, BlackBerry users account for a higher proportion than Windows Phone users.

According to Kantar's statistics, from March 2014, next to Toronto, home of BlackBerry, in the UK, BlackBerry users account for a higher proportion than Windows Phone users.

Statistics show that there is no doubt that Windows Phone ranks third in the smartphone ecosystem after Android and iOS in the UK when BlackBerry still has a certain place.

According to Charles Arthur's data, statistics are based on data of individual users and do not include businesses. We also know how big BlackBerry's business customers are when companies promote the security of believing BlackBerry with BES10 service. So BlackBerry still accounts for a relatively high rate in the UK when only behind Android and iOS.

You finished reading the article "BlackBerry users still account for higher rates than Windows Phone in the UK" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.