Microwave oven has many functions such as cooking, reheating, defrosting so it is very popular for every family, restaurant and restaurant. However, many people still do not know which dishes can be used in the microwave. So let's TipsMake.com go find the answer offline.

What kind of bowl can be used for microwave oven?

Wooden bowl cup

With bowls made of wood that can be used in a microwave oven without worrying about burning in the oven, it is extremely safe so you and your family don't have to worry about anything.

Glass bowl (heat-resistant)

Most dishes made of glass material are suitable for use in spinning, reheating or defrosting in microwave ovens. However, there are some cases of spinning glass dishes in the microwave still have cracks. Because that kind of glass is not heat resistant.

So when choosing glass dishes you should not choose too thin, choose moderate thickness, good heat resistance, you can use in a microwave comfortable without fear of losing safety.

If a glass dish is too thin, when the glass is under pressure from the temperature of the microwave, it is likely to lead to cracking.

Ceramic and porcelain cups

Ceramic and porcelain cups are 2 materials that are baked at extremely high temperatures, so when used in microwave oven, it will ensure absolute safety for food, not afraid of cracking.

In addition, when using ceramic cups, porcelain will help the food does not lose smell, easy to clean after each use, durability is also higher and especially does not cause toxic substances to protect health best.

Plastic bowl

Plastic is a material that is easily deformed, distorted when storing hot items. However, some manufacturers have designed plastic cups for microwave ovens.

When shopping for plastic bowls, keep in mind if the box has microwave-safe or microwavable , it can be used in a microwave without fear of distortion when facing high temperatures from a microwave oven. .
