

Celebrate the new day with a 46-tone mashup in Nintendo

No video game company has the same diverse and interesting music collection as Nintendo.

No video game company has the same diverse and interesting music collection as Nintendo. Composers like Koji Kondo - who composed the theme for the Mario and Zelda games - have created amazing melodies that everyone has hummed for nearly 20 years.

But what if there was a great mashup of these melodies?

YouTube Grant Woolard users visualized the score with notes expressed by Nintendo's in-game characters. In just over 4 minutes, there were more than 46 melodies combined extremely catchy.

The only thing is that the melodies used in the video are quite old, so the good melodies in new games like Super Mario Odyssey or Breath of the Wild are not available. But anyway, there's no need to play Nintendo games, you'll also find this mashup a great one. Let's listen to it.

See more:

1. Upcoming Nintendo Switch emulator on PC
2. Nintendo - 30 years a legend
3. 5 reasons why you must play The Legend of Zelda: Breath of the Wild

You finished reading the article "Celebrate the new day with a 46-tone mashup in Nintendo" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.