A pair of palm rests, a pot liner, a knife holder, a spice holder or a toothpick tube are all indispensable items for your modern kitchen. They not only help housewives prepare meals more perfectly, but also contribute significantly to creating a cozy kitchen space.

Choose the necessary utensils for the modern kitchen first

There should be 2 cutting boards for raw and cooked food

You should have 2, one for slicing raw food and one for slicing cooked food. For raw food, you should choose a wooden cutting board, and for cooked food, you should choose a plastic cutting board. Having the same area, rectangular cutting boards often feel more spacious and comfortable when you chop and chop food. Wooden cutting boards are more suitable when you want to chop, chop food.

Crushed wood chopping board is more suitable when you want to chop food

The outstanding advantage of plastic cutting boards compared to wooden cutting boards is that some plastic cutting boards have 2 separate compartments, so that the food is not mixed, the hollow compartment is for storing the food after it has been minced and sliced. For the purpose of food not being splashed with dirt due to being placed too close to the ground, now there are wooden cutting boards equipped with plastic bases at 4 corners. You are completely assured because these 4 plastic bases do not reduce the stability of the cutting board. You can choose to buy round, oval or rectangular cutting boards.

Need to have enough cutlery set for convenient use

Dao was once likened to an effective assistant to a cook's work. It is also undeniable that the knife plays a very important role in preparing meals in every family. In addition to the use of chopping, chopping, and knife cutting, it can also help you present your dishes more beautifully. When buying a knife, you should pay more attention to the part close to the handle of the blade, do not choose a knife that is too square to sharp or too sharp, which can easily hurt your hand when holding.

The majority of knives sold today are made of stainless steel. Knives made in Japan have the best quality and also have a higher price. Japanese knives are well appreciated thanks to being made of stainless steel, super durable, the blade is fluorinated so there is no grip, very clean and easy to wash after each use.

Indispensable knife set in the kitchen

The knives have a serrated blade that allows you to cut any type of fruit, vegetable, or tuber into a beautiful flower shape as you like. This knife can also be used to cut bread for decoration. You can buy knives in sets including paring knives, cutting knives, chopping knives. or individually depending on your needs. To preserve the knife, after each use, you should wash and dry it, then put the knife in the box or hang the knife on the rack, install it on the base. Do not put knives together to avoid easy contact to cause rust and remember to keep the knives in the correct position.

After a long time of use, if the knives become dull, you can sharpen them again with an iron or electric knife sharpener. To keep the sharpness of the knife for a longer time, only chop and chop food when there is a firm, soft millet (if it is too hard, it will chip and bend the blade), it is best to choose a wooden or plastic cutting board.

The knife holder will help keep the kitchen neat and tidy

A kitchen is considered neat only when the items are neatly arranged, in the right place and scientifically. Knives and scissors are the kitchen tools that are most likely to endanger human life, so you should not underestimate them. After cutting vegetables and fruits, you need to store knives and scissors in the right place. The place to store knives in the kitchen must be qualified to ensure safety, especially for small children.

It is best to have a knife holder, a high puller or a knife holder. In addition to stainless steel knife and scissors, markets and supermarkets are selling a lot of wooden and plastic knife holders. Knife rack can both avoid for all members of your family unfortunate accidents that can happen while preserving knives, scissors from rust, prolonging use time. It is even more convenient when most knife holders are equipped with a place to put sharpeners and scissors.
