

Collection of free music sources to make YouTube videos

Currently, copyright music issues are quite harsh and sore on YouTube. Especially for those who make videos and upload them to YouTube, for example, if they make videos without music, it will be very boring, but if they add music, they will have copyright.

Currently, copyright music issues are quite harsh and sore on YouTube. Especially for those who make videos and upload them to YouTube, for example, if they make videos without music, it will be very boring, but if they add music, they will have copyright. In this article, TipsMake.com will synthesize some free copyrighted music sources so you can use it as you like.

Note, carefully read YouTube's policy on copyright music here.

Method 1: Use Camtasia Studio

Often in screen-recording programs, developers have pre-installed a number of free copyrighted music-audio for us to use. They are usually simple melodies and songs, you just put them into the video and post them on YouTube, making sure you never get copyrighted.

Method 2: YouTube audio - music library

Maybe most of you don't mind, but YouTube also has a free music copyright. Although not very bulky, it is safe.
