Using codes is a common way for players to receive free resources. However, during the redemption process, players often encounter some technical errors and basic questions. Below are some common situations:

Error "Invalid" or "Code Not Found"

The "Invalid" or "Code Not Found" error is the most common problem. The main cause is usually misspelled or incorrectly formatted. If the player enters a character missing or extra, uses the wrong capitalization, or accidentally includes extra spaces at the beginning or end of the code, the system will reject the verification. To fix this, players need to double-check the code against the source code for absolute accuracy.

To determine the validity of an Anime Rangers X code, the most reliable method is to directly enter the code into the game interface and analyze the system's response. Once the code is confirmed as valid, players will immediately receive corresponding rewards, such as gems, rerolls, or rare eggs, which will be automatically added to their account.

Location to find rewards after successfully entering the code.

After successfully entering the code, if the reward doesn't appear immediately, players need to check two main areas:

1. Main Resources: Digital resources such as Gems, Gold, Candy, or Rerolls are usually added directly to your account balance. Players should check the asset display bar on the main interface.

2. Items: Special items such as Chests, Keys, or Upgrade Materials will be sent to your Inventory or a similar item menu within the game.
