

Coursera's top 10 free online courses help you be more successful

In order to help everyone to develop comprehensive skills in life, Coursera has opened 10 free online courses to help you be more successful. Invite you to consult!

1. Proficient in learning 5 skills thanks to the Internet
2. Beginners of computer programming need to focus on what?
3. Top 30 sites will pay for the things you did

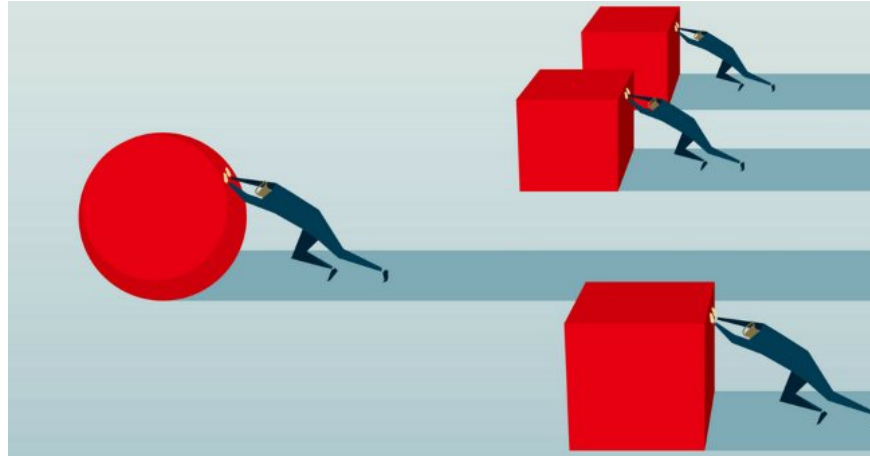

Success is not a destination but it is a process of accumulation, maturity, change after failure. It covers every aspect of life, from the way you manage your bank account to how you teach your children. Here are the free courses on all aspects of life that help you be more successful. These courses will tell you how to succeed in many areas of life.

Coursera is an educational technology company that provides the world's leading online courses and has millions of followers. The company was founded by two computer science professors Andrew Ng and Daphne Koller of Stanford University.

In order to help everyone develop a comprehensive range of life skills, Coursera has opened 10 free online courses to help you be more successful . Invite you to consult!

1. Work Smarter, Not Harder - Work smart, don't work hard

<https://www.coursera.org/learn/work-smarter-not-harder>

The course consists of 4–8 hours of videos, articles and questions.

Many people think that time is the most precious thing. With this course at UC Irvine, you can know how to use time effectively. This course is about personal performance and work performance, it will be helpful because a bad personal habit can affect your efforts to succeed. Join this course to learn how to be more productive and productive.

2. Successful Negotiation: Essential Strategies and Skills - Successful negotiation: Essential strategies and skills

<https://www.coursera.org/learn/negotiation-skills>

The course consists of 8.5-hour videos.

you're planning to support. Moreover, many people waste that money on risky businesses. Therefore, this course will teach you how to avoid such risks and make decisive, pragmatic decisions when supporting money. When deciding to give, you deserve to know the organizations you are supporting represent your values.

5. Psychology of Popularity - Psychology of admiration

<https://www.coursera.org/course/popularity>

The course consists of 6 weeks, 1-2 hours / week.

The key to success is often the ability to influence people . With a course from the University of North Carolina, you will learn how love works. You can discover the psychology behind the degree of affection and how to use it.

This is a special study by Steve Siebold , a well-known speaker, and with this course, you can find out how to take advantage of the predictable nature of the degree of affection. While this type of affection is different from the type known in high school, it can be quite effective for your personal and work life in creating a connection between what is true .

6. Behavioral Economics in Action - Financial behavior in behavior

<https://www.edx.org/course/behavioural-economics-action-university-torontox-be101x>

The course lasts 6 weeks, 4–5 hours / week.

This course from the University of Toronto provides practical ways to change the way we behave in every aspect of life. For example, we have been taught on TV and media about how to spend as soon as we have money. This is a behavior that you can change. The course offers useful tips that you can use to change the way you use money. Master your mind, then you have one more step closer to success.

7. Personal & Family Financial Planning - Personal and family financial plans

<https://www.coursera.org/course/uffinancialplanning>

The course lasts 8 weeks, 5-7 hours / week.

Success means being able to balance and manage family life as well as work . With a course from the University of Florida, you will learn how to balance family life and work; career planning. You won't need to choose between having a family or having a job because with this course, you'll have both. You can learn how to deal with risks, manage taxes and invest to make money for your family.

See also: 13 best online money websites today

8. The Language and Tools of Financial Analysis - Language and financial analysis tools

<https://www.coursera.org/course/financialanalysis>

The course lasts 4 weeks, 6 hours / week.

With a course from the University of Melbourne, you will learn how investors, analysts and CEOs make decisions. The course teaches you computer skills along with financial decision-making skills . You will learn basic accounting principles and combine them to understand how to manage and use money effectively.

You can measure the value of your investment and know where to invest to get the highest return. This is a core lesson in using money to invest . If you start today, your investment will be profitable in the long term.

9. Financial Markets - Financial markets

This useful University of Illinois course will teach you key principles of risk and profitability , stock optimization and valuation . They will be useful when you are planning to invest in the future. Investment links with hundreds of different aspects of life, from making decisions regarding company members to educating children. You will learn how to predict future wages, how to invest in success and what risks you will encounter.

See more: Top 20 free programming learning websites need to bookmark immediately!

Having fun!

You finished reading the article "Coursera's top 10 free online courses help you be more successful" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.