

Create animated images online with PictureStudio.

An animated image is a picture made up of multiple images combined together. The sequential appearance of these images, with only minor differences over a short period of time, gives the impression that the image is moving. The principle behind creating animated images is similar to that of making animated films.

You might think that creating animated images is very complicated and requires specialized software. But that's not the case now; you can create animated images anywhere with an internet connection using online tools like Picasion.com. This article from TipsMake will guide you on how to create animated images using Picasion. Let's get started!

Create GIF Images

How to create animated images using PictureScreen

To create an animated GIF, you need to prepare several related images (usually three or more). For example:

Step 1 : Access the Picture page and choose from the following methods to insert an image.

- Image: Select images in the order they appear (1, 2, 3. corresponding to the first, second, third image.).

- Size: Choose image size

- Speed: Choose the speed at which the images transition. The Advanced setting allows you to select any value.

After making your selections, click Create animation to generate the animation.
