

Deciphering the 'natural wind' mysteriously caused the researchers a headache

That's when an eclipse happens, the air will become unusually cold and wet, a shuddering and frightening feeling like watching horror movies.

Since ancient times, people have felt the change of the air when natural disasters occur (eclipses, eclipses). But we have to wait until today to get an explanation thanks to modern weather forecasting technology.

Mysterious weather changes when eclipse