

Deep web and surprises come unexpectedly

Here are the user's share of bizarre experiences on hidden websites.

Deep web, which has always been rumored with a multitude of dangers, such as hiding a lot of illegal drug sites . but you can also find silly things up here.

1. What is Deep Web? Where is the Deep Web? Good or bad?

Here are the user's share of bizarre experiences on hidden websites.

A user used the Tor browser to search for different objects when participating in a game called "No Love Deep Web". And the game ends with this person driving to New York to answer the phone at 3 am.

A forum dedicated to sharing recordings of the next stop on the train, where people will post recordings and discuss them, also found by another user on deep web.

Tor browser is said to be able to hide your online identity on the Internet. But some people have discovered the truth is not quite so, Tor is not absolutely safe as many people think.

A Redditor once shared that this person was extremely surprised when he received a message saying "We see you" from a stranger on deep web.

You can still be monitored even when using Tor. A Redditor shared, this person once posted a comment on a video and when he came back after a week of not using the Internet, someone answered that comment: "That's great Mr. (insert this person's last name)) This person also emphasized that his surname is not so popular.

The deep web does not only contain strange things, but there are many strange things to sell.

Sometimes some doctors or nurses will post on their web sites their homemade dental kits.

A Redditor once searched for rhino horn on deep web. And unexpectedly, he received an offer with a tremendous price of up to 6 digits.

The above also sells very simple things, such as biscuits from a German man.

Not everything on the web is frightening, sometimes it contains hidden things. For example, fake saxophone and fake Gucci products.

In fact, only a small part of the content on deep web is detected and most of the content is hidden by password or not linked on any other website.

See more:

1. How to access Tor network in Chrome browser
2. Super cool websites can't be found on Google
3. A guide to the Deep Web for newbies
4. How to search the web safely (deep web)?

You finished reading the article "Deep web and surprises come unexpectedly" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.