

Dell announced Latitude 3330 for students and schools

Dell has just announced the Latitude 3330 laptop with a 13.3-inch screen designed for students and schools at an attractive price of just $ 419.

Dell has just announced the Latitude 3330 laptop with a 13.3-inch screen designed for students and schools at an attractive price of just $ 419.

Dell Latitude 3330.

According to the press release just published, Dell said its new model is equipped with a screen with resolution of 1366 x 768 pixels with a glare-resistant coating, Intel Core i5 processor speed of 3337U, RAM 2 GB and 128 GB SSD storage.

Designed to target schools and students, Dell equips Latitude 3330 with a 720p HD webcam that supports video conferencing and Wi-Di connectivity so students can send slides. PowerPoint to HDTV, VGA port, HDMI and USB 3.0. It can work with Windows 7 and Windows 8 operating systems as well as Ubuntu.

To enhance device security, Dell offers Latitude 3330 a wide range of security features, including Dell Data Protection Encryption, where data can be remotely managed to protect birth data. tablets. A well-publicized service is the Mobile Computing Cart, a connected dock that helps IT technicians remotely manage computer systems.

Dell Latitude 3330 will be officially released later this month for $ 419.

You finished reading the article "Dell announced Latitude 3330 for students and schools" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.