Hourglass and new equipment in the Arena of Truth 1.0.1

Hourglass Zhonya

A Reddit user named yesitsnoa posted a picture of Zhonya Hourglass appearing with the Wooden Bow on Leona when she was wearing the Bandage Gloves.

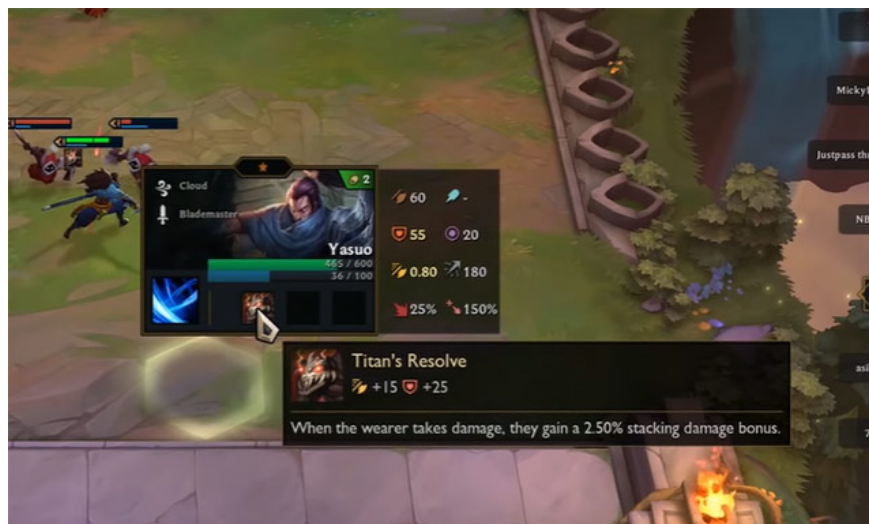

Although there is no formula to directly match this item, it has its own stat and usage separately. This proves that it is being developed by the Riot Games team and will be officially updated in the near future, specifically, Hourglass will have the following uses:

Zhonya Hourglass:

Plus 20 Armor and 20 AP

Abilities: When a champion possesses less than 30% health of their items, they will enter a state that is not targeted, immune to damage but unable to move for 4 seconds.

Unfortunately, Leona was shocked to death just before the equipment could activate, so we have yet to determine if this is a display error. However, the added value of this item is similar to the Iron Solari Chain, it is likely that the formula of the two equipment is combined.

In addition, there are 4 other new equipment found by the Arena of Legends players community, including:

Bladebane (Sword of Disaster): Enemies who attack on a champion possessing Bladebane will receive reduced damage. If it is a melee champion, it will be greatly reduced, or the champion who is far from 2 boxes will be reduced less. This effect will only last for a short time and is not equipped with the stack.

This seems to be a suitable item for tankers to recover and block buffalo buffs like Braum, Mundo, Maokai or Vladimir can also be used to both defend and create debuff for allies who do not eat too much dame after their death. .

Catalyst: If an enemy champion dies, a champion possessing Catalyst will gain +20 Energy, + 20% Evasion Rate (the formula might be Practice Gloves + Goddess Tears).

This will be the exclusive equipment for the Wizards or Summoners to be able to use it continuously, even the summoned students will be counted together.

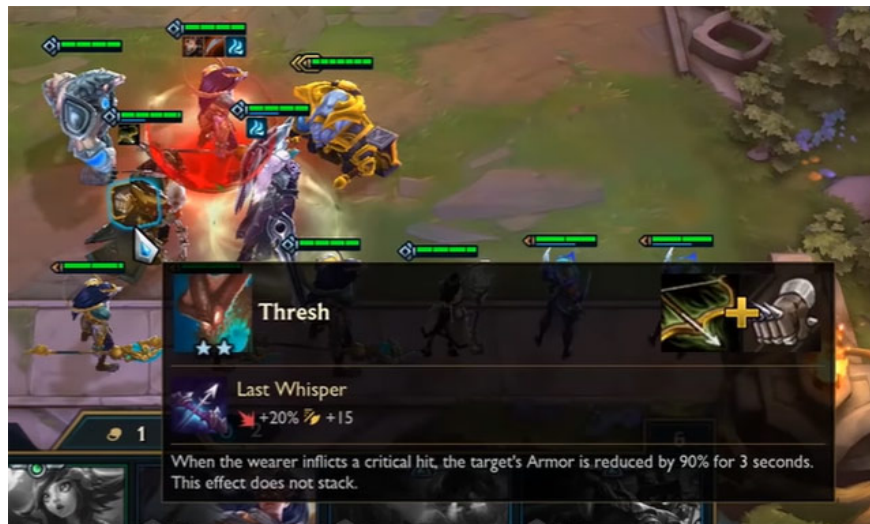

Chalice of Favor (Ly An Hue): When a champion who possesses this item uses his skill, it will immediately restore mana to nearby allied champions.

This equipment has the same effect as Twisted Fate when using the Green Card continuously in DTCL season 1. Allows teams to quickly have mana and can be used for a lot of champions in season 2 when everyone only has total mana quite few.

Shroud of Stillness: When a champion drops below X% health will automatically become a target that cannot be picked, immune to everything but unable to move for a short time.

This item will be suitable to replace Angel's Armor when it has the same effect but is different in how to protect the target. Instead of protecting the tanker with the ability to restore health as before. Although not moved but can still attack if enough range, suitable for team far away like wizards and gunner.

It is expected that the new equipment of the Arena will soon be available on the PBE test server and will be officially available to gamers in the 10.1 update in early January 2020.
