

Difference between Among Us PC and Among Us Mobile

Here are some of the differences between Among Us Mobile and Among Us PC. If you are new to playing, please read through this article to choose the version that is more suitable for you.

You can download Among Us PC or Among Us Mobile to play, but which one is the best option right now. This will depend on a large part of the player's preferences and habits.

This article will help you distinguish the strengths and weaknesses between the two versions to and from there you will make a decision on how to play Among Us on which platform is the best for you.

Currently, Among Us is still achieving very impressive numbers on both mobile and PC platforms after a long time no one notices. In the game, you will play as Crewmate (Crewmate) or Impostor (The Imposter).

The Crewmates work together to complete in-game missions and take the Impostors off the map. They must try to find the Fake Thief by discussing it with the rest of Crewmates.

The Fake Thieves had to sneak into the crew and sabotage the ship or destroy the Crew to win.

What are the differences between Among Us Mobile and Among Us PC?

The price of the item in the game

Perhaps this is the most prominent difference between the two versions. Android and iOS users can download and play Among Us for free, then spend money on other things in the game like pets, hats, skin.

As for the PC version, some items you have to spend money to buy on Among Us mobile will be free when you own the Among Us PC version via Steam or on innersloth.itch.io. With the Pet, you will have to buy for the same price on both platforms.

Personal data

In addition to the difference in the free and paid purchases above, players should be aware that their personal data will be shared and they will have to watch ads. Also, anything you have purchased on the mobile version will not synchronize between the mobile device.

If you want as many items in the game as possible, buying Among Us on your PC will be a better way for you to go. However, those who are only interested in the game will find the mobile version a better choice.

Control and discussion

With the control, PC players can choose to use only the mouse or use both the mouse and the keyboard together. Mobile players have a virtual joystick. Some players believe that Among Us PC may take more time to perform tasks than Among Us Mobile. Because Among Us Mobile players can click buttons such as Report or Use, Sabotage, and especially the Kill button faster.

However, discussions with other players on Among Us PC will be much faster than on your phone because you can type directly with the real keyboard instead of the virtual keyboard on your phone.

Additionally, many PC players can also chat over the mic using Discord, and discussions will be much easier. Plus, PC players also have a larger screen.

Conclude

Because the mobile version is free, new users are encouraged to try it first due to the only downside of Among Us Mobile is sharing personal data. After that, if you like the game enough, go to Among Us PC.

Of course, those concerned with privacy should stick with the PC version. The developers of the game are currently in the process of updating a new account system and a new map.
