

Disney will launch an online movie service called DISNEY + by the end of 2019

In the recent meeting, Disney Chairman and CEO Bob Iger revealed about Disney's new online movie service called Disney +. Disney services will compete directly with Netflix and other online content platforms.

In the recent meeting, Disney Chairman and CEO Bob Iger revealed about Disney's new online movie service called Disney +. Disney services will compete directly with Netflix and other online content platforms.

Iger also revealed that Disney + will be officially launched in the US by the end of 2019. Disney + will have its exclusive product, a new live-action series for the Star Wars franchise produced by Lucasfilm, public. Disney-owned company. This series is produced based on the journeys of Cassian Andor, at the stage before the Rogue One events: A Star Wars Story takes place.

In addition, Disney + will also be exclusive to another live-action series based on Loki character, Marvel's "The Deceiver" of the MCU, as actor Tom Hiddleston takes on the role. Disney + will also show other programs based on Pixar's Monsters Inc. and Disney Channel's High School Musical.

See more:

1. 9 websites to watch TV shows, free online TV shows
2. 12 high quality movie watching software for Android phones
3. How different is watching Netflix and free movies on YouTube?

You finished reading the article "Disney will launch an online movie service called DISNEY + by the end of 2019" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

