

Display weather forecast on the computer screen

Display weather forecasts on your computer screen - Instead of going to websites to see the weather forecast where you live, you can use Weather in Gadgets of Windows 7 to see weather forecasts. right on the Windows 7 screen.

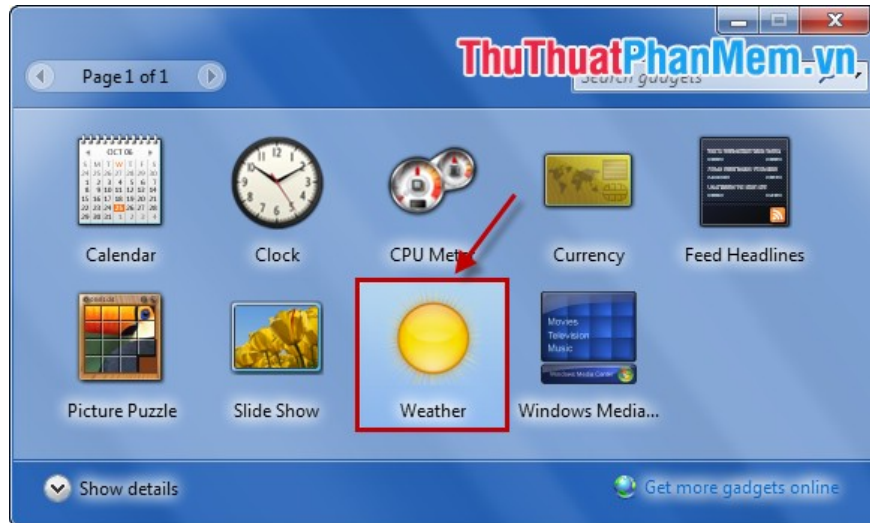

Instead of having to visit websites to view the weather forecast where you live, you can use Weather in Gadgets of Windows 7 to view the weather forecast right on the Windows 7 screen.

Instructions on how to display the weather forecast on the Windows 7 screen with Windows Gadgets.

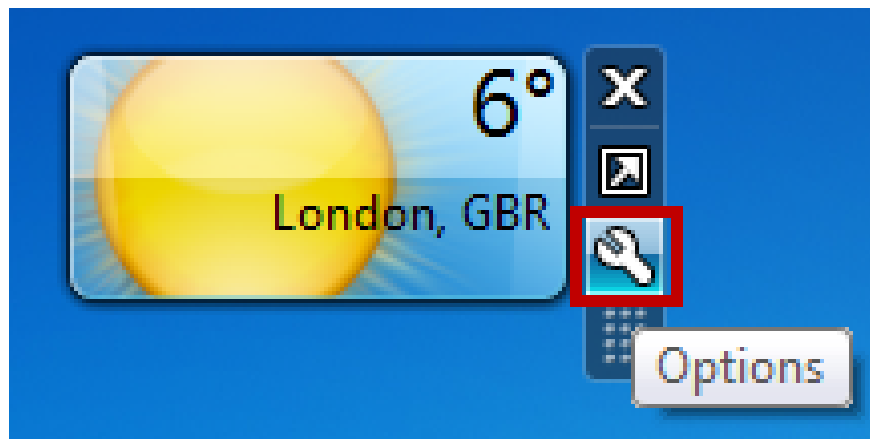

Step 1: On the computer screen, right-click and select Gadgets .

Step 2: In the Gadgets interface, double-click on Weather , or click and hold on Weather to drag to the computer screen.

Step 3: The weather icon appears on the screen, to change the location of the weather forecast to the province you live in. You select the Options icon and select Options .

Step 4: In the Weather dialog box . Enter a province name in the Select current location and press Enter to find the location. You enter the keyword " Name of province + Vietnam " for example Hanoi Vietnam .

Select Celsius to display the temperature in degrees Celsius in Show temperature in .

Step 5: Click OK to save.

So on the computer screen you will display the weather forecast for Hanoi - Vietnam

With very simple steps, you can view the weather forecast right on your computer screen. Convenient and fast, view with many different locations at home and abroad. Good luck!

You finished reading the article "Display weather forecast on the computer screen" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

