Raw materials for making roses decorate the photo frame

1. Colored paperboard is available in any color
2. 6-petal floral tool
3. Scissors, glue, small sticks

How to make roses decorative photo frames

Step 1:

Use a 6-bladed tool to apply the colored paper to the flowers.

If you don't have this tool, you can draw a flower pattern on the paper or take a similar flower pattern superimposed on it and cut it along the border.

Step 2:

To make a rose you need 3 layers of 6-leaf cut flowers.

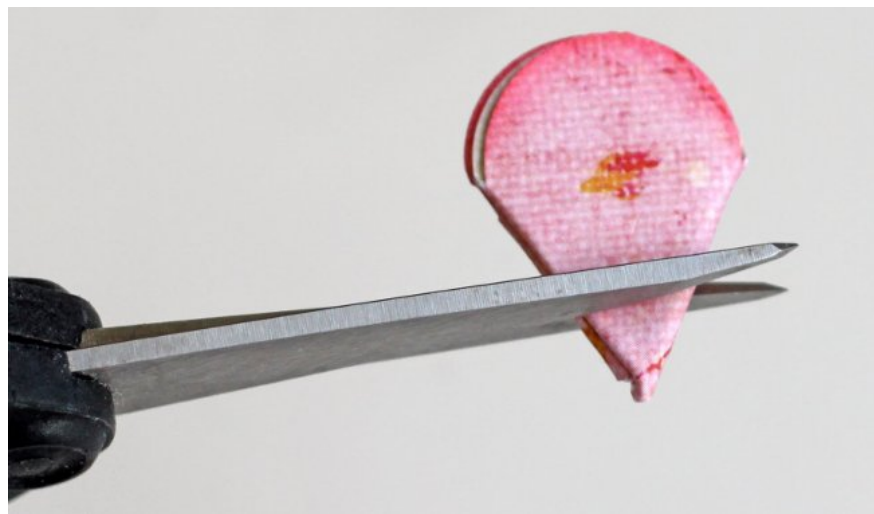

In the first flower, you cut a line between the petals as shown.

In the second flower, cut two lines, separate one petal out, forming a 5-pointed flower.

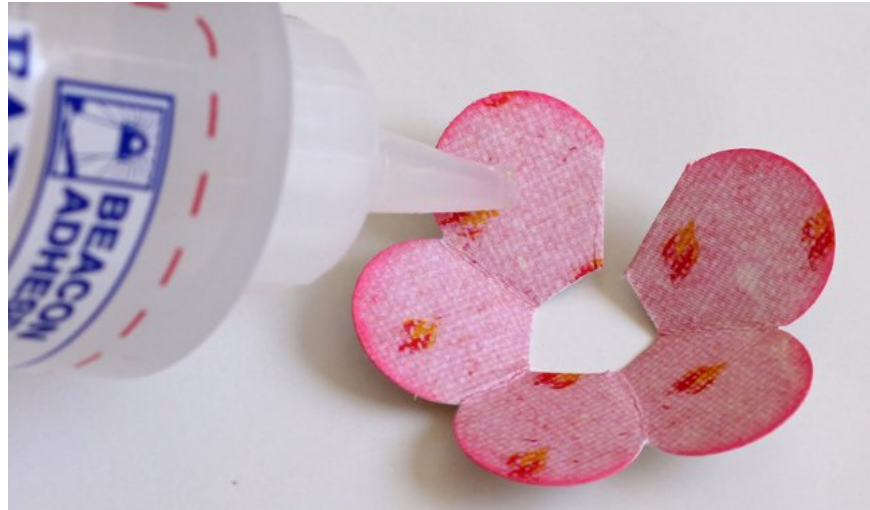

In the third flower, you also cut two lines but separate the 2 petals, forming a 4-pointed flower.

Step 3:

Fold all 3 flowers again as shown, cut the spike of the petal to form the pistil.

Step 4:

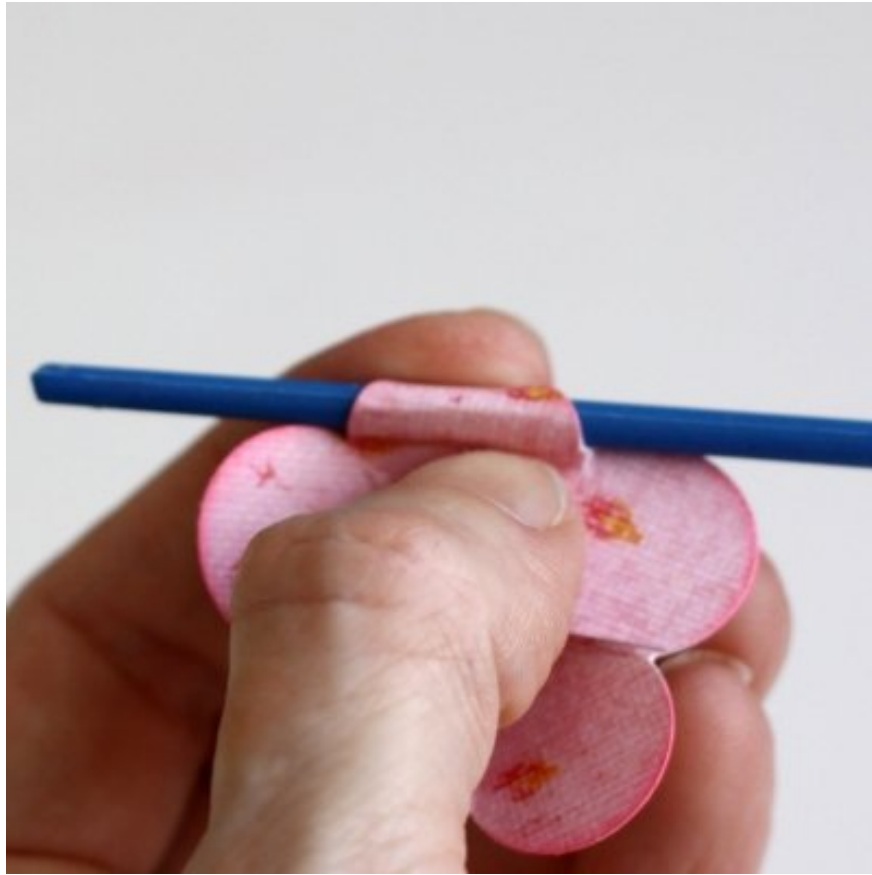

Then, paste the recent cuts to connect the petals. The flower will have a natural curvature. You should use a toothpick to apply glue on the cut surface of the petals, to avoid putting the glue out.

Step 5:

After the glue has dried, use a small stick, roll the petals outward so that the petals bend like a picture.

You should do so gently to not tear the petals.

Do the same with all 3 flowers.

Step 6:

Put small flowers in the big flower one after the other, stacked on each other and staggered to make the flower look more vivid.

After that, you use glue, apply flower petals to create a complete flower.

Step 7:

Utilizing the 2 petals cut off in step 2, you curl up in the shape of a funnel, bending the upper edge of the paperboard to form the pistil.

Stick this pistil in the middle of the flower and complete the paper rose.

Step 8:

Finally, just use the glue, put these roses on the photo frame to decorate.

You can use many different colored paperboard and make the flowers big and small in size to make your photo frame more vivid and sparkling.

In addition, you can use these flowers to decorate handmade cards, gift boxes .

If you donate this photo frame to your mother, print another photo of the family inserted into it. This will be the most meaningful gift for mothers during the Vietnam Women's Day October 20 .

If you give it to a close friend or girlfriend, put in it a commemorative photo of the two. Surely the recipient will feel extremely interesting.
