Legend of Solgard is a unique RPG game developed by King, the addictive game maker Candy Crush, in partnership with Snowprint Studios.

Legend of Solgard is a unique RPG game developed by King, the addictive game maker Candy Crush, in partnership with Snowprint Studios.

In the game, players will have to build and train their own army to fight the enemy. Overcoming each level, players will receive new heroes and treasures to upgrade their army. The next level of play will be more difficult and the opponent will be more 'stumpy' than the previous game, so in order to win, the player needs to have a good strategy of fighting and upgrading heroes.

Each Legend of Solgard game consumes a certain amount of energy similar to Candy Crush, and you will need a certain amount of time to recover if there is not enough energy.

To promote your character faster, players can recharge to buy items or buy energy.
