

DVD upgrade to Windows 8 costs 70 USD

Users can also wait until the release date of October 26 to download a direct upgrade to a computer for $ 40 instead of buying a $ 70 upgrade DVD package. This is the price only applied until the end of January 2013.

Users can also wait until the release date of October 26 to download a direct upgrade to a computer for $ 40 instead of buying a $ 70 upgrade DVD package. This is the price only applied until the end of January 2013.

Customers can pre-order DVDs at Microsoft stores. (Photo: Internet)

Computers running Windows XP, Vista and Windows 7 are allowed to upgrade to Windows 8. Software upgrade packages can be found at Microsoft, Amazon.com, Best Buy, Staples stores . Microsoft has not officially announced the price. sell the full set of software to install from the beginning. For comparison, the current price of Windows 7 is $ 200.

Any customer who has and will buy a Windows 7 computer from June 2, 2012 to the end of January 2013 has the right to upgrade to Windows 8 Pro at a cost of only $ 15, a move to stop sales. computers dropped while consumers waited for Windows 8 to launch.

Microsoft also said manufacturers such as Acer, Asus, Dell, HP, Samsung and Sony also began accepting pre-installed Windows 8 computer orders.

The largest software manufacturer in the world did not mention the Surface tablet - the product is expected to launch the market in time with Windows 8. Microsoft has not announced the price of the device that is considered an iPad rival. this.

You finished reading the article "DVD upgrade to Windows 8 costs 70 USD" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---